CHINA KEEPS 25 FRONTLINE JETS AT AIRFIELD NEAR LADAKH

Chinese Air Force has deployed over two dozen frontline aircraft at its Hotan air base near eastern Ladakh sector, a media report said, quoting government sources. The Chinese Air Force keeps 25 frontline fighters at Hotan air base, which include their J-11 and J-20 fighters. China is building new airfields close to Indian territory, which can allow them to carry out missions from lower altitudes.

RECORD U.S. INFLATION CLIMB COULD SUCK OUT MORE CAPITAL FROM INDIA

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

WITH US inflation staying at a 40-year high, analysts expect a further flight of capital from emerging markets, including India, triggering massive sell-off in equity markets and making the rupee weaker.

US inflation in May rose to its highest point since 1981 as the Consumer Price Index recorded a 8.6% year-on-year growth on the back of higher fuel, food and shelter prices. This is more than 8.3% forecast by analysts. Retail inflation in April was at 8.3%.

Analysts said the higher-than-expected inflation will firm up the US central bank's resolve to increase rates at every Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting. FOMC is a Federal Reserve committee that decides US interest rates. Analysts believe when the FOMC meets next week, it will increase US policy rates by at least 50 basis points (bps). The Fed raised policy rates by 25 bps in March and 50 bps in May.

"India will be impacted. The sustained high inflation would force the US Fed to keep increasing policy rates. This, in turn, will have an impact on capital flow to emerging markets, including India," said Shubhada Rao, an economist and founder of QuantEco Research. Till June 10, foreign portfolio investors in India had withdrawn $25 billion.

The rupee, which has already declined 5% against the dollar, may further come under pressure if Fed interest rate hike accelerates capital outflow. At the time of writing this report, the rupee was trading at 78.13 per dollar.

Benchmark Indian equity indices Sensex and Nifty have shed 8% and 10-year GoI bond yields have risen 16% since the begining of 2022.

However, some market experts such as Vinod Nair of Geojit Financial Services, expect a moderation in FII selling in the near future.

In just 3.4 yrs, 752 communal cases in K'taka

KARTHIK K K @ Mysuru

KARNATAKA, described by Rashtrakavi Kuvempu as 'Sarva Janangada Shantiya Thota' (Garden where all communities live in harmony), seems to be losing this tag if one goes by the rapid rise in number of cases of offences related to religion, hatred among people, communal clashes and instances of hurting religious sentiments of one another.

Data available with TNIE reveals that the state has seen more than 700 offences related to religious and communal issues in the last 40 months.

According to information sourced from Karnataka State Police, the state has registered over 752 cases of offences related to religion (IPC 295 to 297) including communal and caste riots in a span of just 3.4 years (January 2019 to April 2022). The offences related to religion (booked under IPC 295 to 297) stood at 197 in the year 2019 but jumped to 212 and 204 in the following two years, and this year in just four months, over 97 cases have been registered already. P6

Vote count on hold in Maha, Haryana

CM Gehlot keeps flock together, wins 3 Rajya Sabha seats in Rajasthan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Rajya Sabha polls to 16 seats across four states on Friday saw some last-minute drama in Haryana and Maharashtra leading to delay in counting while the BJP and the Congress mopped up four seats each.

While the BJP won three in Karnataka and one in Rajasthan, the Congress picked up three in Rajasthan and one in Karnataka.

Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot led from the front to keep his flock together and get his party's candidates R S Surjewala (43 votes), Mukul Wasnik (42 votes) and Pramod Tiwari (41 votes) into the Rajya Sabha with the support of all Independents and other smaller parties. The lone BJP winner was Ghanshyam Tiwari (43). As reported in these columns a day ago, media baron Subhash Chandra fell by the wayside though he was backed by the BJP.

A bit of cross-voting added to the day's drama. The dramatis personae were Rajasthan BJP MLA Shobha Rani and two Karnataka JD(S) MLAs, K Srinivas Gowda and S R Srinivas (they reportedly put blank papers in the ballot box). The BJP promptly suspended Shobha Rani and sought a reply within seven days for defying the party whip.

In Karnataka, the BJP won three seats while the Congress got one. With the JD(S) and Congress fielding candidates for the same seat, the BJP managed to get one more from the state. Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman (45 votes), actor-politician Jaggesh (44 votes), and MLC Lehar Singh Siroya (33 votes) won the three seats for the BJP while the fourth was bagged by Congress leader Jairam Ramesh (46 votes).

In Maharashtra, seven candidates were in the fray for six Rajya Sabha seats. P9

Both sides at EC door

In Maharashtra, counting was put on hold after BJP's objections citing violations of the code of conduct. BJP's Parag Alwani said NCP's Jitendra Awhad, Congress minister Yashomati Thakur and Shiv Sena's Suhas Kande handed their ballot papers to the party's authorised agents. As per law, MLAs have the right to show their ballot paper to their party agents but not give it to them

BJP wins 3 seats, Cong 1 in K'taka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman won the Rajya Sabha polls comfortably to represent the state for the second consecutive term in the Upper House. The polls for four seats in Karnataka were held on Friday, of which BJP won three, Congress one and JDS none. Six candidates were in the fray from the three parties. Congress, with 70 MLAs including an independent, could win Jairam Ramesh's seat, but did not have enough votes for the second seat. JDS patriarch HD Deve Gowda and party leader HD Kumaraswamy tried but failed to come to an understanding with Congress to defeat "communal" BJP. P6

Governor signs ordinance for OBC quota in BBMP Council

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN the absence of legislature, Karnataka Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot on Friday signed an ordinance promulgated by the government to provide reservation pertaining to Other Backward Classes (OBDs) in the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) election.

The development comes in the background of the Supreme Court setting a deadline of eight weeks to complete ward reservation as well as reservation based on OBCs. P4

Hate speech protests flare across country

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

PROTESTS against hate speech by BJP functionaries broke out in various parts of the country after Friday's congregational prayers, but they were largely peaceful, though stray incidents of violence were reported from a few places.

Incidents of stone-pelting and torching of several vehicles and carts were reported from Prayagraj, Saharanpur and Ranchi. In Prayagraj, attempts were made to set a police vehicle ablaze. The police fired in the air and resorted to lathi-charge to disperse the mobs. Agitations and protest marches were held in Delhi, parts of UP, West Bengal, Telangana, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Rajasthan, Kashmir and Jharkhand.

In Delhi, protests erupted outside the Jama Masjid with the people demanding the arrest of suspended BJP spokesperson Nupur Sharma. An effigy of the BJP leader was also burnt in Okhla. In Uttar Pradesh, protests broke out in several places, including Lucknow. Police said 136 people were arrested from Saharanpur, Ambedkar Nagar, Firozabad, Moradabad and Prayagraj.

Clashes broke out in some parts of West Bengal's Howrah district when the police tried to disperse the agitators who had blocked roads. Internet services have been suspended till June 13.

The situation was also tense in Ranchi where 11 police personnel and 12 protesters were injured in clashes near the Hanuman temple.

In Jammu and Kashmir, agitations were held in Srinagar, Bhaderwah, and Kishtwar. In Bhaderwah, protesters pelted stones at the police. P10

IISc STUDY

Men contribute more to air pollution than women

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

A recent study by the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) has shown that men are bigger contributors to air pollution than women.

In the study — "Understanding the mitigation potential of sustainable urban transport measures across income and gender groups" — which has also been published in the Journal of Transport Geography, the researchers observed that more women walked compared to men, and even for longer distances.

Researchers observed that in most cases, carbon dioxide emission reductions were high in high-income groups and PM2.5 emissions (emissions of particulate matter lesser than 2.5 microns) reductions were high in the low-income and lower-middle-income groups.

They also observed that the highest emission reductions were from the female groups. "Women tend to shift their mode of transport from walk to paratransit to public transportation and personal vehicles as their income levels increase. However, men tend to use personal transport more than women. Male groups contribute more to emissions due to higher number of trips, but their mitigation contribution is comparatively lesser than female groups. This scenario is more prominent in high-income male groups," found the researchers.

Ashish Verma, Professor, Transportation System Engineering, Convenor, IISc Sustainable Transportation (IST) Lab, Department of Civil Engineering, IISc, which conducted the study, said transportation costs associated with mitigation policies have shown little impact on high-income male groups. Therefore, to achieve a high mitigation potential from the high-income male groups, the transportation costs of the mitigation policies and the incentives to use public transportation should be high.

CCTV CAMERAS TO KEEP EYE ON IDGAH MAIDAN

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@Bengaluru

THE police, in coordination with the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), have planned to install closed circuit television cameras (CCTVs) around the 2.5-acre Idgah Maidan in Chamarajpet, considering the ongoing issue over the ownership of this land which is presently being used by Muslims for their festivals and as a playground.

The BBMP recently announced that the land belongs to it and that members of all communities can use the ground on getting permission from the Joint Commissioner, BBMP (West), after a few Hindu right-wing outfits sought clarification over their question on why only one particular community was allowed to use the ground when it was under the BBMP.

The Central Muslim Association (CMA) — which on Thursday submitted documents and records to the BBMP supporting their claim that the ground belongs to them — on Friday said although they were unaware about the plans of CCTVs to be installed there, they would not object to it as it would serve to beef up security around the land.

A senior police official said the department has held talks with BBMP officials and arrived at the decision of installing CCTV cameras around Idgah Maidan. "Twelve CCTV cameras are being fixed surrounding the site. The cameras come with 4MP Zoom and 4K Clarity features, and will be connected to monitor the premises. Chamrajpet police station will have access to the footage."

Special commissioner and West Zone in-charge S M Srinivasa said everything is being done for security purpose.

The pro-Hindu groups are demanding that the ground be made available to hold events like Independence Day, International Yoga Day, Ganesha festival and others.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath had earlier stated that in some records it showed the ground as BBMP property, although some documents of the Supreme Court judgment were missing. However, the CMA has submitted the Gazette Notification records of 1965 through tapal, which shows the land to be under its ownership.

Drones, GST no.s to be used to find tax defaulters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta on Friday said that all methods are being adopted to bring defaulters into the tax ambit. He said drones and even GST numbers will be used to check on them.

Speaking to the media on the sidelines of the day-long workshop for revenue staffers from BBMP on chalking out strategies and how to achieve increasing tax targets, Gupta said they will be verifying properties by scrutinising the returns filed, and will take details from Bescom for industrial, commercial and residential details, to check on them. Also, details from the Karnataka Medical Association will be taken to know the exact number of registered associations, which are operating and which are not. Details of BBMP beds and Covid-19 case history will also be checked.

The BBMP database and intelligence inputs will be utilised to get details of properties and the taxes paid. Stress will also be laid on physical verification to know the exact details of the properties. Usage of drones will start at the earliest on pilot basis.

Girinath said the exercise with staffers is being done to know which properties have been left out, how revenue sources can be increased, how the tax bracket can be strengthened and targets need to be set so that revenue increases. Mistakes made should be corrected and action taken as per rules. An action plan is also being prepared on how arrears can be collected from tax defaulters.

BBMP to take back 150-plus properties

The BBMP will take back its 150-odd properties as their lease period has ended. BBMP Special Commissioner (Revenue) Ramprasad Manohar on Friday said the palike has 6,215 properties of which, 163 were leased out. The palike has managed to evict seven owners and soon will take the remaining properties.

UK varsities banking on Karnataka to further education goals

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

WITH the largest envoy of UK delegates, consisting mostly of vice-chancellors and university officials, currently visiting India, a large portion of them had insisted on visiting Karnataka, said Vivienne Stern, director for Universities UK International (UUKi).

Out of 23 representatives visiting India, spearheaded by Stern, 16 representatives had insisted on visiting universities in Karnataka, specifically Bengaluru. "Karnataka, by a very large margin, was a very popular destination amongst the envoy, since many wanted to come here to find out what was going on, which is mostly due to the National Education Policy," Stern told TNIE.

Both Stern and British Council India Director Barbara Wickham spoke to TNIE on the current envoy of UK university officials visiting the state and their hopes on what it would do for future collaborations between the two countries as well as education in Karnataka.

"Many UK universities are talking to their counterparts in India and working out where their expertise and strengths align. In the comings weeks and months, having established a point of contact, these universities and institutions will follow-up and have collaborations in terms of joint degrees, research, exchange programmes and others," Stern told TNIE.

On why these collaborations are necessary and why the delegation had come to visit now, Wickham said that education is a global priority due to a fast-changing world. "Our focus is on how the UK and India can work together on shared global challenges. Especially with the last two years of the pandemic showing us a lot, we want to get together the brightest and the best from both countries for the wider benefit of the world. With the world changing so fast, we need to know what the response of educational institutions is to these changes to make sure that our young people have those skills, because it is education and research that will help us meet those global shared challenges," she told TNIE.

Meanwhile, Stern said that Bengaluru was quickly becoming a hub for international education in India. "We have a government that recognises that international exposure for students is very important and that aligns with the priorities of both the Karnataka and the Indian governments," she said.

RTI reply reveals bank wrongfully collected over ₹82 cr

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

AN RTI application by a customer of Canara Bank has revealed that the bank wrongfully collected over Rs 82 crore from its customers in 44 months between April 2018 and November 2021. With the bank continuing to collect penalties from the public, it could have touched Rs 100 crore till June 2022, he said.

The RTI applicant said that when he went to withdraw some amount from a Canara Bank ATM in 2018, he was levied a penalty for "insufficient funds" of Rs 23.60 which includes Rs 20 for the failed transaction plus GST. Stating that he was never informed about such a penalty, the customer took up the issue with an RBI ombudsman and requested a nominal compensation of Rs 100 for the deficiency of service from the bank. The award was recently issued in his favour for refunding the penalty levied plus the compensation.

The four-decade-old customer of the bank with a strong knowledge of banking rules explained that the public need to be given 30 days advance intimation if there is any modification in service charges, including fresh charges proposed to be levied. It needs to be displayed on the website of the bank, but it was not done by Canara Bank, he added.

The applicant charged, "Canara Bank has pocketed Rs 82 crore on account of ATM insufficient fund charges from April 2018 till November 2021 and still it is going on. The RBI may have to initiate proactive steps to stop this practice and unjust enrichment by the bank."

Despite numerous attempts by this reporter, no one in Canara Bank could be reached for response.

PETER VIDAL

11th June : The bad news from space at the moment is that we still can't arrange proper backing to preparations for a space probe to Pluto, the most distant and enigmatic planet. Astrologers everywhere are longing to have a closer look at this mysterious body, me more than most. Let's hope they see sense!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon is about to pose one or two interesting questions, such as what is the best thing to do about a family or domestic dilemma. It's a day to think your problems through rather than resorting to raw emotion or Arien impatience. I mean, you don't want to upset anyone, do you?

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Money matters occupy your mind today. Splash out, by all means, but also get all your papers in order, whether insurance claims, investment plans or fancy profit-making schemes. Traditional entertainments suit the mood best, so resist attempts to persuade you to do something out-of-character.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon is raising the prospects of a busy, though happy, home-based weekend. The choice is yours as to whether you spend a restful time with family members or busy yourself on your favourite tasks. The guiding principle seems to be that whatever you do benefits others.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
When Mercury and Venus speak to each other, they create poetic conditions. Such delicate influences obviously appeal strongly to the subtle Cancerian personality, and may lead you to dream of exotic places or future wealth. Partners may not make much sense, though!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
There is every opportunity for you to make the most of yourself socially this weekend. The stars are urging you to take the initiative and get out as much as possible. A little play would be a good thing after a hard-working week. After all, you do have to look after yourself occasionally!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Listen carefully to what other people say, and admit they have the best ideas. This is not to say that you are wrong, only that there are aspects of the current situation that you have failed to consider. And, that's a failure you'll have to remedy as soon as possible.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The Sun is soon to form a very delicate and inspired relationship with Neptune, which means that dreams and thoughts of romance are prominent this weekend. Yet a money muddle may intervene along the way. And, when it does, you'd better take the cautious way out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There is every sense in which it is right for you to argue your case. It does seem now as if you have the edge over other people when it comes to a sound reason for what it is practical and necessary to do. At least lunar alignments are still supporting you emotionally, though.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Mercury and Venus both make significant adjustments in their positions over the current period, the result being that your mood should become much lighter, frivolous and frothy, even. Certain problems will soon be pushed into the background, so don't waste your time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You are now entering a financial cycle in which partnerships will hold the key. Relationships with women seem to be potentially the most profitable, while luxuries are more desirable than necessities. Actually, it's a day to indulge your day-dreams.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The weekend is here at last, bringing all its abundant opportunities for peace and relaxation. With the Moon determined to bring out the lighter side of your character, there is plenty of scope for putting pain and problems to one side. And take advantage of an offer of help.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Mercury adjusts its position, inaugurating a period during which your mind will be on peak form. You will have no trouble persuading other people that your plans, arrangements and ideas are by far and away the best. But, next week it may look very different!

Colleague bins proposal, man throws diluted acid

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN yet another acid attack in Bengaluru, a man threw diluted acid (toilet cleaning liquid) on his co-worker after she refused to marry him. The incident took place in Sarakki, in Kumaraswamy Layout police limits, on Friday morning.

The victim, a resident of Ilyas Nagar, is said to be out of danger. Police traced the accused Ahmed (34), who had escaped after throwing acid, to his house in Goripalya, and arrested him within a few hours after the incident. Police said the accused is a married who had deserted his wife and two children, while the victim is a 32-year-old divorcee with three children. They worked together in an incense sticks factory near Sarakki Junction, and were in a relationship for the past 1.5 years. The accused had been pestering her to marry him, but she had been turning him down, citing she had children and he had not divorced his wife.

"Around 10am Friday, when the victim was in the factory, Ahmed asked her to come out. When she met him, they argued, following which Ahmed threw toilet cleaning liquid, on her face and upper back, due to which the woman suffered blurred vision in the right eye for some time. Bystanders rushed her to an eye clinic, where her vision restored. The woman has sustained minor injuries," police said.

Narayana performs free surgeries for kids

Bengaluru: Narayana Health City, in association with Centum Electronics Ltd, performed free surgeries and saved the lives of 125 paediatric heart patients. Appreciating the donation of Rs 25 lakh by the company, Dr Devi Prasad Shetty, Founder and Chairman, Narayana Health, said, "We are extremely grateful to Centum Electronic Ltd for their support. In India, over 2.4 lakh children are born with a hole in the heart, and Congenital Heart Disease is one of the most common causes of morbidity and mortality among children. Though these ailments are treatable, 20 per cent of children die before celebrating their first birthday owing to economic constraints. We are confident initiatives like this will encourage greater participation, and will help address the situation better." Expressing happiness over association with NH Apparao Mallavarapu, Chairman & Managing Director, Centum Electronics, said Centum's CSR programmes have always focused on children's health and education.

Two women nabbed for boy's kidnapping

Bengaluru: Two women, who were part of a three-member gang that had kidnapped a Class 5 student last week, were arrested by Hennur police. The main accused, who is pregnant, hatched the kidnap plot to arrange money for her post-delivery expenses, and also to fulfil her cravings. She had assured the other two accused of Rs 10 lakh each, to execute the kidnapping. One of the accused, Gourav Singh, from Nepal, was arrested earlier. Police were looking for the two women -- Singh's sister-in-law Durga Devi, and Mangitha, who is from Bihar, and is pregnant. As Mangitha was his neighbour and he knew her, the boy went some distance with her, and she later handed him to Devi. "The boy went with Mangitha who had once taken his mother's mobile to make a call. She had instead called her own number, and saved it. The number was passed on to Singh to make the ransom call," said an officer who is part of investigations.

Victim stabbed in left arm, abdomen

THE incident took place when the accused, an auto driver, came to the flat under the influence of alcohol. The victim, Pradeep, slapped him which led to a fight between them. Police said Pradeep was the first to stab the accused who has been identified as Rakshith Gowda, 26, a resident of Vijaynagar.

Rakshith then took a knife and repeatedly stabbed Pradeep in the abdomen and left arm, before locking the doors of the flat from outside and fleeing.

The murder came to light after neighbours complained of foul smell emanating from the flat following which the building's caretaker Suresh informed the police. Police broke down the door and found the victim's decomposed body on June 2.

The murder is said to have happened between May 30 to June 2.

The Madiwala police examined the CCTV footage in the vicinity and found a man going out of Pradeep's flat on May 30 midnight. Rakshith is said to have sustained stab injuries on his right hand.

A police officer told TNIE, "The caretaker told us that the victim was a woman. As the body had decomposed, the stab injuries were not visible. We thought the person may have died of a heart attack. The post-mortem revealed the victim was a man and had been stabbed. Our investigation revealed the victim was a cross-dresser. The victim often invited men to his flat. Pradeep had met the accused when he had hired his auto."

Building caretaker Suresh said that the owner of the building, Srinivas lives in Chintamani. Madiwala police have registered a case.

Centre lists strategies to detect Covid

Genome sequencing, screening of international passengers, community checks to be taken up

CHETANA BELAGERE
@ Bengaluru

THE Ministry of Health and Family Welfare has sent revised operational guidelines to states to monitor Covid-19. Joint Secretary Lav Agarwal listed out six major surveillance strategies focussing on early detection of Covid cases, containing the spread and identifying any new mutations or variants early. Meanwhile, the Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) met on Friday evening to discuss strategies to implement the revised guidelines.

"The guidelines highlight the need to focus on early detection, testing, and timely management of suspected and confirmed cases, while strengthening efforts to detect and contain outbreaks of new SARS-CoV-2 variants. These also call for close monitoring of long-term epidemiologic trend of Covid-19, supported with established genome surveillance strategy under the INSACOG network of laboratories," said the circular.

Among the surveillance strategies listed are screening of incoming international travellers for Covid-19 to detect entry of the virus and its variants into the country from other parts of the world. "Randomly screening 2 per cent of passengers on each incoming flight into India will be followed. All positive samples will be sent for genome sequencing," said the guidelines.

As part of sentinel surveillance, the Centre has asked states to strictly monitor ILI and SARI cases and test them for Covid-19. Meanwhile, all healthcare facilities, including private hospitals, must report ILI cases from the OPD, and an officer has to analyse the data of positive cases. This report has to be submitted fortnightly to the District Collector.

As part of laboratory-based surveillance, all labs should henceforth provide data, and the state health department will analyse the test positivity rate based on this data. The trend of Ct values will also be analysed.

The Centre has also asked states to conduct community-based surveillance to focus on early detection of unusual events in the community, to look for large outbreaks, unusual presentation of cases, mortality etc. "The district-level rapid response teams will assess unusual events, and if required, outbreak investigations will be undertaken," the guidelines said.

Meanwhile, whole genome sequencing of eligible samples will be undertaken on routine basis, and importance is to be given to sero surveillance and sewage surveillance too. The state has also sought the formation of district teams to report daily cases, and has to submit reports on weekly and daily basis, including hospitalisation data, to the Centre.

TAC Chairman Dr M K Sudarshan told TNIE, "We are having another round of meetings to streamline the new guidelines, which will be implemented on priority basis."

Defamation: HC upholds scribe's conviction

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court confirmed the order passed by a trial court sentencing accused RK Ravi Kumar, reporter, editor, printer and publisher of Kannada journal 'Parivala Pathrike', to simple imprisonment for six months, and to pay a fine of ₹10,000, for a case registered in 2000 for publishing articles with an intention to defame former IAS officer BA Harish Gowda. Gowda was then the PU Board director.

Justice HP Sandesh passed the order while allowing a criminal revision plea filed by Kumar, to set aside enhancement of sentence from six months to nine months by the sessions court. He dismissed the criminal revision petition filed by Gowda for enhancement of sentence.

BJP BAGS 3, CONG 1 IN UPPER HOUSE POLLS

Nirmala, Jaggesh, Lehar Singh from BJP win, Cong's Jairam Ramesh sails through; fourth seat sees a tough fight

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

UNION Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman won the Rajya Sabha polls comfortably to represent the state for the second consecutive term in the Upper House.

The polls for four seats in Karnataka were held here on Friday, of which BJP won three, Congress one and JDS none. In all, six candidates were in the fray from the three parties.

For BJP, apart from Nirmala, actor-turned-politician Jaggesh, who was the party's second candidate, and Lehar Singh Siroya too won, boosting the morale of the BJP government, led by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai.

Congress' nominee and former union minister Jairam Ramesh sailed through for a second consecutive term from the state. The fourth seat witnessed a tough fight between the three parties as none had the required 45 votes to win. Eventually, Lehar Singh emerged victorious with BJP taking advantage of a rift between JDS and Congress over fielding one candidate between the two of them to defeat the saffron party. After allocating 46 votes to Nirmala and 44 to Jaggesh, BJP was left with only 32 surplus votes. JDS had 32 votes, and Congress a surplus of 25 votes. Congress had fielded former union minister K Rahman Khan's son Mansur Ali Khan as its second candidate, while JDS had former Rajya Sabha member Kupendra Reddy. Congress, with 70 MLAs including an independent, could win Jairam Ramesh's seat, but did not have enough votes for the second seat.

JDS patriarch HD Deve Gowda and party senior leader HD Kumaraswamy put in a lot of effort to come to an understanding with Congress to defeat "communal" BJP. But it was not to be, as KPCC president DK Shivakumar and Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah were against such an alliance.

JDS with 30 votes, as against Lehar Singh's 33, could not get the second-preference votes and lost the battle. But a big take back for the regional party in the Rajya Sabha elections was that it managed to keep its flock together, except for the rebel from Kolar, K Srinivasa Gowda, and Gubbi MLA SR Srinivas, who cross-voted for Congress and BJP respectively. "Congress is responsible for the victory of BJP's third candidate and a new chapter in the state politics will begin soon," quipped Kumaraswamy who was visibly miffed over the debacle of the party.

Modi, Shah, Nadda pat CM on the back

Bengaluru: Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Home Minister Amit Shah and national party president JP Nadda personally congratulated Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai after all the three party candidates won the Rajya Sabha elections on Friday. They called Bommai over phone and expressed their satisfaction that all the three won despite the obvious shortage of votes for the third candidate. They appreciated the state's efforts in bolstering the party's strength in the Rajya Sabha.

Srinivas Gowda must resign: HDK

Former Chief Minister and JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy slammed his party MLA from Kolar, Srinivas Gowda for voting for Congress candidate in the Rajya Sabha polls on Friday. Gowda admitted that he has identified himself with Congress and voted for party candidate in the RS polls. "He won the assembly elections on the JDS ticket with the support of our workers, if he has any decency, let him resign and do politics," the ex-CM told media persons. The JDS leader accused the MLA of insulting people and JDS workers of Kolar. He said that issuing a whip is just a formality and that there is no law to punish those involved in such an act, he said. Hitting out at Congress leader Siddaramaiah, he said the Congress party was indulged in hijacking elected leaders from other parties.

Kolar JDS workers protests against MLA for cross-voting

Kolar JDS workers under the leadership of CMR Sreenath launched a protest in front of Kolar assembly segment legislator K Srinivasa Gowda's residence for allegedly voting for Congress instead of JDS. Sreenath told media persons that Gowda was elected from Kolar assembly segment on a JDS ticket, and forgetting that he has reportedly voted for Congress. Sreenath said he should have resigned long back, but he continued to be an MLA for power. The voters of the Assembly segment will teach him a lesson in the upcoming Assembly election.

RS POLL DRAMA

Vote count delayed over Revanna's ballot scene

The counting of votes of the Rajya Sabha polls was deferred by two hours as the Congress party had moved the Election Commission to announce JDS party's HD Revanna's vote invalid as he had mocked the KPCC president DK Shivakumar while exercising his franchise. Besides showing the open ballot to JDS agent CS Puttaraju, Revanna had allegedly shown it to Shivakumar. Both the Congress and the BJP had lodged a complaint with the Returning Officer M K Vishalakshi but the latter issued an order soon that the incident had not happened as she cross verified the CCTV footage. Not convinced, the Congress party agent Prakash Rathod lodged a complaint with the ECI which however clarified that the vote cannot be declared invalid.

CT Ravi enters Cong office

Moments into voting, the BJP national general secretary C T Ravi along with his supporters had entered the Congress office of the leader of the opposition Siddaramaiah by "mistake". As soon as he noticed DK Shivakumar inside, he realised and came back in a jiffy. He claimed that since he had visited Vidhana Soudha after some gap, he got confused. "No way I am joining Congress," he said.

I love Congress, says JDS MLA

The Kolar JDS MLA and former minister K Srinivasa Gowda, originally from Janata Parivar, who was a minister in the late N Dharam Singh led Congress-JDS cabinet in 2004 openly declared that he had voted for the Congress. "You know, I have voted for Congress because I love it," he quipped while another JDS MLA SR Srinivas of Gubbi allegedly voted in favour of BJP candidate.

Even petty issues can turn into communal clash: Ex-cop

THE crime rate had seen a decline during the Covid-19 pandemic across the state when most people were confined to the four walls of their homes due to lockdown and curfews.

Thanks to issues such as hijab, azaan and halal meat, the number of cases is only skyrocketing. While the ruling BJP and the opposition Congress and JDS are busy in political slugfest blaming each other, it is the common man who is bearing the brunt.

A retired SP, on condition of anonymity, who had served in coastal Karnataka, said that these cases are triggered by various issues. "Even a petty issue can take the turn of a widespread communal clash due to the sensitivity of of the cases a lot is stake. It gets worse when various activists and organisations try to disturb the social harmony for their own vested interests. Though in most of these cases accused are booked under IPC 295 to 297 and also charge-sheeted, many either come out on bail or complete their jail term within a year," said the retired police officer.

P P Baburaj, an activist, advocate and Director of People's Legal Forum said, "Communal agenda suits some political parties. They ensure that communal clashes take place and try to polarise society. But there has to be awareness among people not to fall for it."

Eyeing minorities, Congress checkmated JDS

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru

CONGRESS and JDS did not budge from their positions and decided not to go for an alliance to win the fourth Rajya Sabha in the polls held on Friday, seemingly because of their own calculations ahead of the 2023 Assembly polls.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar and leader of opposition Siddaramaiah stressing that the party has fielded a minority candidate, Mansur Ali Khan, was a clear indication that the party wants to garner the minority community votes in the Assembly polls. Even during the recent 'Nava Sankalpa Shibira', the party had stated it would protect the interests of minority community.

Dialogues at the national and state levels to withdraw their candidates did not yield results as Congress leadership felt it would hurt its interests in the Assembly polls. After the fourth Rajya Sabha seat went to BJP, both Congress and JDS indulged in a blame game to prove their point to the minority community.

After the elections, a miffed Kumaraswamy asserted that JDS will never go with Congress in the future. But the Congress leadership seemed upbeat that it won one seat, and defeated its 'secular' rival. The party leadership found no reason to back JDS and even managed to convince the party high command of its decision, sources informed TNIE. Congress has its eyes set on the Assembly polls as an internal survey gave it an edge in the crucial elections. Letting JDS win an RS seat would have boosted the regional party's morale in the Old Mysuru region and boomeranged on Congress, especially KPCC chief DK Shivakumar, who is a Vokkaliga trying to emerge as leader of the community, sources said.

EVEN before the political heat is dying down after the Rajya Sabha elections, the battle for the Legislative Council election from the South Graduates' constituency has turned prestigious for all the three major parties, with BJP aiming to spread its wings in the Vokkaliga belt.

Congress wants to take advantage of the rift in JDS and create history by winning the seat for the first time, while JDS, dented by an open rebellion by a few leaders, wants to retain the seat in the Vokkaliga heartland.

BJP, exhorted by Amit Shah and JP Nadda during their visits to the state to expand its base in Old Mysuru, redrawn its strategy as it lost the previous poll by a thin margin in Congress and JDS bastion.

The party chose senior functionary MV Ravishankar over former MLC G Madhusudhan and more than half-a-dozen aspirants. A victory here is crucial for the party as it will be at the backyard of Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah giving it a big boost ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections. It will also ensure a majority for the party in the Upper House allowing it to pass bills easily.

But the presence of independent candidate NS Vinay from the dominant Veerashaiva community and too many candidates in the fray has made BJP leaders knock on the doors of voters favouring other parties for second-preference votes.

For Congress, it will be a historic win and its hopes are up as JDS has been hit by internal strife. JDS MLA G T Deve Gowda is sulking, while sitting MLC Marithibe Gowda is openly campaigning for Congress, making chances bright for the Grand Old Party to win the seat for the first time.

Congress announced the candidature of former MP G Made Gowda's son Madhu G Made Gowda's in advance giving him enough time to interact with voters. JDS, which has won in previous elections here, is banking on over 58,000 Vokkaliga votes out of the total electorate of 1.33 lakh. It has gone all out to canvass for its candidate HK Ramu, who is a former president of the Karnataka State Government Employees' Association.

Despite the rebellion by Marithibe Gowda, his follower Kirale Jayaram and other supporters of senior party leader HD Kumaraswamy have thrown their weight behind Ramu.

Karnataka on alert over Prophet remark protests

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE state has been put on alert following massive protests across the country, including in Delhi, Ranchi in Jharkhand, Saharanpur, Moradabad and Prayagraj in UP, on Friday over suspended BJP spokesperson Nupur Sharma and her former colleague Naveen Jindal's remarks on the Prophet that have also triggered a major international backlash.

Sources told The New Indian Express that though the situation in the state is peaceful, all unit officers and police stations have been cautioned against any security breach that may lead to communal violence and breakdown of law and order.

"There is no specific intelligence input for Karnataka, but in the wake of protests elsewhere, officers have been cautioned to maintain a high state of alert. Security apparatus will be further tightened closer to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's scheduled visit to the state on June 20 and 21," said sources.

"Kanpur riots in Uttar Pradesh on June 3 that left several people injured had taken place when the Prime Minister with President Ram Nath Kovind was visiting the latter's village Paraunkh in Kanpur dehat," they added.

The police are keeping a close watch especially after the banned terrorist organisation -- Al Qaeda in Indian Subcontinent (AQIS) -- threatened India of suicide bombings to avenge the insult to the Prophet earlier this week.

The latest threat followed an earlier one by AQ's elusive chief Ayman al-Zawhiri in April in which he had exhorted Indian Muslims to react to the hijab row, which began in coastal Karnataka.

In Belagavi, Bagalkot, Ballari, Vijayapura, Gadag and Hosapete districts in Karnataka, members of the Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI) and various Muslim organisations protested on Friday and submitted memorandums to district authorities demanding the immediate arrest of Sharma and Jindal.

Only 2 transgenders write exam for 150 reserved posts

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

THE state government's decision to include transgenders in the mainstream by providing them government jobs in the Department of Public Instruction (DPI) has had no takers. Of the 70,000 applications, only two are from the transgender community. They will be recruited based on the examination results.

In December last year, DPI went ahead with the process to recruit 15,000 teachers for Classes 6-8. Of these, 1 per cent, or 150, jobs are reserved for transgenders. DPI had called for eligible candidates to write the Karnataka Graduate Primary Teachers' Test in April, and exams were held in the last week of May. The department received over one lakh applications, of which 70,209 were eligible to write the exams, while around 65,000 appeared. "Two transgender candidates -- one from Raichur and another from Chikkaballapura districts -- too wrote the exam," an official said.

Asked why there were only two transgenders, he said the post requires graduates with a BEd degree which many transgenders would not have obtained. Even if they have studied, they would not have applied fearing social stigma, he added.

Education Minister BC Nagesh said, "We see hope as two candidates have appeared for the exam and we wish that they get through. We can bring awareness with the help of selected candidates."

No question of dropping revised textbooks, says Nagesh

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

AMID protests by Congress and other organisations over changes in school textbooks, Primary and Secondary Education Minister BC Nagesh on Friday asserted that there is no question of dropping the revised textbooks.

He, however, said suggestions by swamijis of different mutts will be considered on re-revising chapters on social reformer Basavanna in the social science textbooks of Class 9.

He said, "After a meeting with CM Basavaraj Bommai last week, we decided to retain the chapter on Basavanna revised by Bargur Ramachandrappa, but there are objections to that too. We are waiting for letters from swamijis." A word or a line missing in the lesson on Dr BR Ambedkar in the social science textbooks of Class 9 will be retained, he said. "Once the books are in public domain, we are ready to make amends if people have any objections to the content," he added. But no separate committee will be set up to re-revise the textbooks, he said.

He clarified that no separate committee has been formed to revise Chapter 4.2 (birth of new religions) in II PUC textbooks.

Once the school textbook revision committee led by Rohith Chakratirtha has been dissolved, there is no question of submitting or accepting a report of that committee, he said. The committee had taken up the revision of a chapter, but dropped that too after it was disbanded, he said. On protests against changes in textbooks, Nagesh said, "Those who have read the content of the revised textbooks are not commenting. Only those who are going by social media posts are speaking against it. Since the Assembly elections are due next year, this issue has been created. Only Siddaramaiah is speaking against it in Congress."

KCR to take fight to BJP with new national party

TRS state committee to meet by June 19, where Rao will officially announce plans

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hyderabad

IN a significant development, Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) supremo K Chandrasekhar Rao has reportedly decided to take his fight against the BJP to Delhi by floating a national-level political party, while continuing to hold the reins of the State administration. At a meeting with senior TRS leaders at the Pragathi Bhavan on Friday, Rao informed them of his plans to go national by floating a new party. According to sources, all the top TRS leaders endorsed the proposal.

While Rao had told reporters during his recent visit to Bengaluru that the people would soon hear 'sensational' news very shortly, there is no clarity whether the TRS would be expanded to other states or Rao will announce another party with a new name. However, if rumours are to be believed, Rao's new party would either be called 'Bharat Rashtra Samithi' (BRS) or the Nava Bharat Party (NBP).

Sources said that the TRS state committee will meet before June 19, where Rao will officially announce his plans. The TRS supremo normally launches any new programme or projects during Dasara.

The meeting, ostensibly convened to fine-tune the TRS strategy for the Presidential election, was attended by Ministers and other important leaders of the party and lasted for six hours. During the meeting, Rao veered the discussion towards the need for an alternative political agenda for the country, leaving little time to delve on the Presidential election.

"A discussion took place on floating a national party in the meeting. KCR may announce it in the State committee meeting to be held on or before June 19," CMO sources said after Friday's meeting.

The CMO sources too said that the new party may be called Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS), a name that has been doing rounds in TRS circles for some time now. A TRS MLA had written an article in a newspaper on the TRS foundation day that BRS was needed for the country. Rao also mentioned the article in the party meeting held on April 27 and even added that there were calls to launch the BRS.

Legislative Council Chairman Gutha Sukhender Reddy and Assembly Speaker Pocharam Srinivas Reddy too were present in the meeting.

CBI busts fake certificate racket in M'luru

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) on Friday afternoon raided the Railway Health Unit near Mangaluru Central Railway station (under Southern Railway Zone jurisdiction) and on Friday arrested three individuals, including the Additional Chief Medical Superintendent, for their alleged involvement in a fake medical certificate scam.

The racket has been going on for over a year, and the doctor has allegedly issued certificates to individuals from Southern Railway, South Western Railway and Konkan Railway. More than 1,500 bogus medical certificates have been issued so far.

According to sources, CBI arrested Additional Chief Medical Superintendent Dr Shiva Shankar Murthy, pharmacist Vijayan V A and broker Ibrahim. A CBI team comprising over 15 members is still carrying out raids inside the health unit. A total of 1,500 documents have been seized by the officers.

Sharing details, a top source said hundreds of licensed vendors, porters, housekeeping staff on platforms and caterers on board trains must mandatorily submit medical fitness certificates annually to the Railways, to be permitted to work at railway stations and on trains.

It is here that the Mangaluru unit came in handy. "With the help of a broker, those at the health unit received the Aadhaar card of anyone requiring a medical certificate through WhatsApp. They issued a medical certificate immediately to the person via the same medium. A payment of Rs 525 was collected through online payment mode," the source revealed.

It is illegal to issue a medical certificate without checks being carried out on the individual, and the certificate is considered a bogus one, a source added.

'More startups exploring space sector'

ENS @Bengaluru

IN the area of space, a lot of startups are coming in to contribute, and are also partnering with the Indian Space Research Organisation, said Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday.

Inaugurating the 'Creating Wealth through Markets' conference during the celebrations by the Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM), as part of the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, in Bengaluru, she said the private sector is allowed to be in all sectors, including strategic ones.

On the disinvestment programme, the Finance Minister said the principle with which disinvestment is happening now is not to shut down a unit. "We want to prime it up and we want to have them (companies) run far more efficiently," she said.

'Women walk more, use public transport'

SINCE the high-income group's value of time is high, transportation costs have less impact and so incentives should be high.

Verma said women (high and low income) are using public transport. Women of higher income groups are more inclined to shift to Metro if the services become attractive and reliable and those of the lower income prefer buses because of the cost aspect. Women also walk more as the network connectivity for transport is not better linked. So to get to the public transport they prefer to walk.

The researchers also found that the travel time played a crucial role in high- income people choosing public transport. The study was aimed at evaluating the mitigation potential of eight income-gender groups to climate change mitigation policy bundles for the urban transportation sector.

After 3 months, Covid cases cross 200 in TN

Chennai: The number of fresh Covid-19 cases breached the 200-mark for the first time in Tamil Nadu after three months as 219 people tested positive for the virus on Friday. Chennai alone reported 129 cases. Health Secretary J Radhakrishnan said the surge in cases is a miniwave fuelled by the new sub-variants of Omicron — BA.4 and BA.5. TN has so far reported seven cases of BA.4 and 11 cases of BA.5. ENS

Water contamination? One more succumbs

MAHESH M GOUDAR @Raichur

ONE more person died allegedly due to the consumption of contaminated water taking the toll to five on Friday.

The 48-year-old deceased is identified as Janakaraj, a resident of Uragera colony and a daily wage labourer, who breathed his last at a private hospital. He is survived by his wife and children. With his death, the total tally due to the consumption of contaminated water spiked to five in a short span of two weeks in Raichur CMC limits. According to sources, "Janakaraj was one among 70 people who were treated at the district hospital after the complaints of vomiting and diarrhoea. He was discharged from the hospital three days ago and was admitted to a private hospital."

It may be noted that he is the second person to breath his last after his discharge from the hospital. However, in his case also the district administration has a different version citing the cause of death due to brain stroke, denying the effects of contaminated water.

Deputy Commissioner Chandrashekar Nayaka told Express "This death is not linked to the water contamination because he had completely recovered after treatment at the hospital. He also had other health complications."

Beef smugglers nabbed

Udupi: Beef smugglers who were transporting two quintals of beef in a vehicle reportedly used three women as shields to hoodwink the police near Ottinene, Byndoor on Thursday night. However, the women and the prime accused- Mohammed Altaf (37) of Karkunje -- were nabbed by the police. The police seized two quintals of beef from illegally slaughtered cows. BJP MAY HAVE UPPER HAND IN CLOSE PRESIDENTIAL BATTLE

The announcement of the schedule for election to choose the next President of India has triggered activity in the ruling as well as opposition camps. The BJP-led NDA has more votes than the opposition in the Presidential electoral college. The NDA votes, however, fall a little short of the majority mark. But the gap is so small that the NDA can get the magic number just by winning over the independents in Parliament and in states. The ruling alliance appears set to get its man, or woman, elected to Rashtrapati Bhavan.

The opposition, however, is trying to make it into a contest by winning over not only the fence-sitters but also some of the allies of the BJP. West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee and Telangana CM K Chandrashekar Rao have been canvassing support for a joint opposition candidate. They have sent feelers to Bihar CM Nitish Kumar conveying their readiness to pick a candidate of his choice. Nitish is an ally of the BJP. The tide may turn against the ruling alliance if he decides to throw his weight behind an opposition candidate. The JD(U) leader has, however, given no indication about breaking ranks with the BJP.

The support of fence-sitters like Biju Janata Dal, YSR Congress Party, Bahujan Samaj Party, Shiromani Akali Dal, besides the Telangana Rashtra Samithi and a few other smaller parties would be crucial for mounting a challenge to the NDA candidate. But here too, BSP chief Mayawati who has supported the ruling alliance on most issues in Parliament, is not likely to side with the opposition on this issue.

Congress president Sonia Gandhi, who controls the largest number of opposition votes, has deputed Mallikarjun Kharge, leader of opposition in the Rajya Sabha, to talk to non-BJP parties and examine the possibility of getting an opposition candidate elected as the next President of the country.

For the opposition parties, the Presidential election could be an opportunity to iron out their differences and come together on one platform against the ruling coalition.

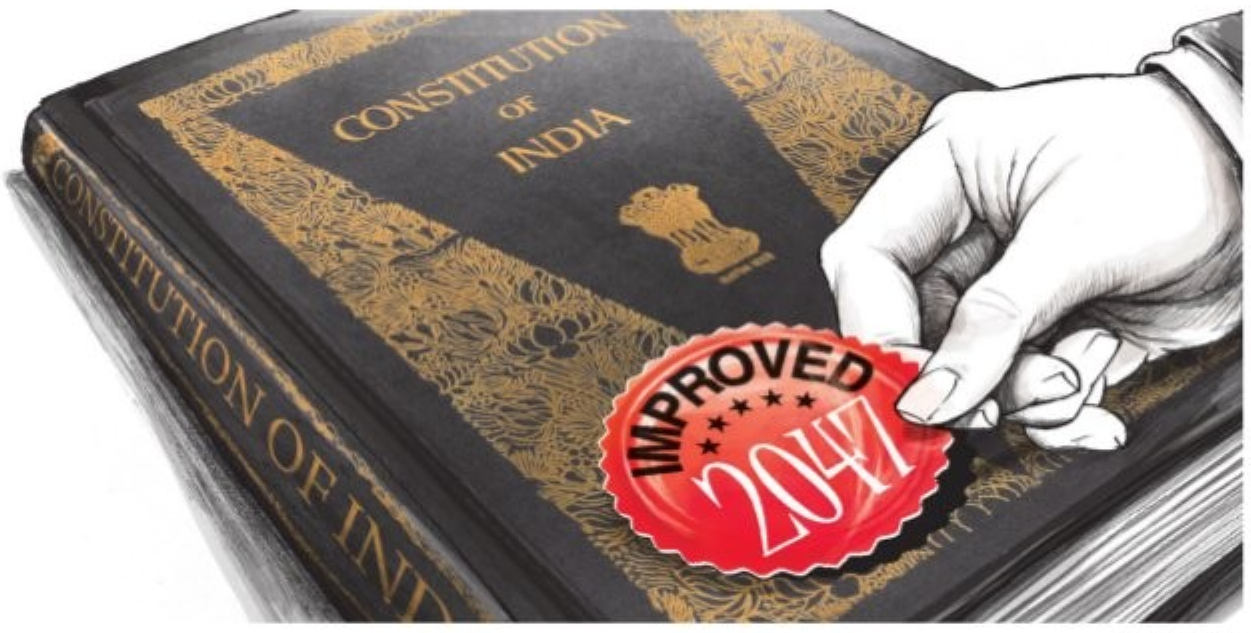
IT BOOM THAT KERALA CAN CASH IN ON

The Information Technology sector that forms the backbone of Kerala's economy, along with tourism, is witnessing a boom with new companies opening shops and the existing ones expanding facilities. This week, IBM launched an Automation Innovation Centre at Infopark in Kochi and announced collaborations with TCS and Wipro. Design and technology services major Tata Elxsi opened a new centre at UL Cyber Park in Kozhikode on Wednesday, after expanding its centre at Kinfra Park, near Thiruvananthapuram's Technopark, in April. In the last few months,deep-tech companies like Visteon and Blue Binaries also opened new centres at Technopark, while TCS expanded its operations. About 50% of space in Niagara, the 1.5 million sq ft office building that will open in November at Technopark Phase-3, has already been booked. What these indicate is the IT companies' renewed interest in Kerala while they are planning to expand and look towards tier-2 and tier-3 cities.

The IT industry in Kerala employs 1.22 lakh professionals across 1,046 companies. The value of total exports in 2020–21 was ₹15,000 crore, and it grew at 14.5% compared to the previous year. A complementing startup ecosystem also exists here. In 2021, Kerala's startup companies raised a funding of $226 million (₹1,718 crore). Earlier this year, fintech start-up Open Financial Technologies became Kerala's first unicorn startup. This seems to be the right moment for the state to seize the lost opportunity. Though Kerala realised the potential of the sector and launched the country's first IT facility, Technopark, in the early '90s itself, it lost out to Bengaluru, Pune and Hyderabad as the state governments there competed with each other and provided better business environments. Even now, industry professionals complain about the lethargic attitude of Kerala's IT authorities. There are long queues of companies waiting for space at all three major IT parks and no serious efforts are being taken to address the issue. The shortage of industry-ready talent is another hitch. If the government picks up the cues, addresses concerns and goes for an aggressive marketing drive, it can cash in on the boom. That can provide the much-needed booster dose for the state's ailing economy.

Substantial changes must be made to the Indian Constitution to make it dynamic and to meet the aspirations of the new India

UNRAVELLING THE BASIC GORDIAN KNOT



SOUMYADIP SINHA

BIBEK DEBROY

Chairman, Economic Advisory Council to the PM

Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav means we have in mind a template for India in 2047. The bedrock of all policies is set by the Constitution, which was adopted on November 26, 1949 by the Constituent Assembly and came into force on January 26, 1950. However, no Constitution should be cast in stone. It is meant to be dynamic and is supposed to reflect the will of the people through Parliament, a point which was repeatedly made during the Constituent Assembly debates. India's Constitution today isn't what we inherited in 1950 and rightly so. There have been more than 100 amendments since then. Some are more important than others.

Naturally, there is a subjectivity in deciding what was a major amendment. With reference to that, my list includes 1st, 4th, 7th, 17th, 24th, 25th, 42nd, 73rd, 74th, 86th, 91st, 99th and 101st. In my view, all these amendments involved a change in the basic structure of the Constitution. For amendments, there is now a cutoff set by Kesavananda Bharati judgment of 1973. This landmark verdict declared that the basic structure can't be changed. Most people know of this decision, set by a 13-member bench of the Supreme Court. The apex court decided 7/6. Note two obvious points here. (1) Prior to 1973, there was no such doctrine, even if there were changes to the basic structure, despite the judgment in the Golaknath case. (2) Supreme Court judges didn't decide unanimously. Had one judge given a different ruling, the outcome would have been different. Because of what one judge decided in 1973, an avowedly dynamic Constitution is now cast in stone.

Every decision is subject to a historical context. The context for the 1973 judgment was the mid-1970s, an era leading up to the emergency. As a counterfactual, had the historical context been different, would we have had the Kesavananda Bharati judgment? That's a counterfactual. For practical purposes, the Constitution is kept frozen. But, who will decide whether an amendment leads to a change in the basic structure?

After Raj Narain and Minerva Mills cases, the Supreme Court will decide. Can there ever be sufficient objectivity in determining when there is a change in the basic structure? Witness court reactions to awarding of death penalty in rarest of rare cases. If there is no objectivity there, one suspects there will be subjectivity in assessing changes to the basic structure. Some 20 years ago, there was a National Commission to Review Working of the Constitution. Eventually, the 2002 report tinkered at the edges and didn't suggest anything substantial. If one thinks in terms of a 2047 template, there ought to be substantial changes. Here is my subjective list.

First, the Seventh Schedule, which is about an optimal level of governance for providing public goods. This isn't only about Union and state governments, there are local governments too and we can't have a Seventh Schedule effectively inherited from the Government of India Act of 1935. What do we do with Article 243?

Second, if reforms are about markets, how can we have a situation where Right to Property is no longer a fundamental right? What about fundamental rights in general?

Third, what does socialism mean? This isn't only about the Preamble. Representation of the People Act has been amended too. Every political party in India must be socialist, whatever that expression means.

Every decision has a historical context. For example, the 1973 Kesavananda Bharati judgment found wider acceptance during the Emergency that followed. If the backdrop was different, would we have this ruling?

Fourth, do we want the present definition of the state under Article 12? Under Article 39(C), do we want the state to ensure there is no increase in concentration of wealth and means of production? What is the role of Directive Principles of State Policy and what are our views on affirmative action? Do cottage industries, workers' participation in management and prohibition have the same resonance now?

Fifth, what is Rajya Sabha? Now that the domicile requirement has gone, do we need a second chamber? If we logically need a second chamber, why do some states function without legislative councils?

Sixth, what views do we have on the productivity of legislatures, criminalisation of politics, or simultaneous elections? Surely, sections on elections (Art. 324–329) need a relook, as do emergency provisions (Art. 352–360)?

Seventh, if governance is about delivering public goods optimally, how can one state have a population of 200 million and another of 6,00,000? How can one have a geographical area of 3,700 sq km and another of 3,42,000 sq km? In other words, shouldn't we have in mind a Second State Reorganisation Commission and consider distribution of legislative powers (Art 245–255) afresh, not to speak of what should be done to special areas under Art 244 and disputes and co-ordination between states (Articles 256, 262–63)?

Eighth, don't we need a fresh definition of citizenship?

Ninth, what about the process for amending the Constitution (Article 368)? This sounds like a laundry list for another Commission to review the Constitution, one with a report that is more than cosmetic and tinkering at the edges.

Many people have written about the strength of the Indian Constitution and rightly so. But it is also more than seven decades old, although it is not yet 75. The vintage and age show. There are Articles in the Constitution which are out of sync with the 2047 template and working through Parliament. Citizens have a right to wish for a dynamic Constitution, reflecting the altered realities we live in now and altered aspirations for an India in the future of 2047. Sure, review of the Constitution has its work cut out. However, when it comes to implementing the recommendations, which will be substantial, will we face the Gordian knot of basic structure?

CASTEISM THREATENS CONSTITUTIONALISM

KALEESWARAM RAJ

Lawyer, Supreme Court of India

On June 2, 2022, Nitasha Tiku of The Washington Post reported that a talk by Thenmozhi Soundararajan to the Google News employees on caste equity and newsrooms was called off. Allegedly, the cancellation happened because a section of Google News employees with a soft corner for upper-caste hegemony started to protest.

The report further states that Tanuja Gupta, an officer at the company who had invited Soundararajan for the talk, resigned in protest. This incident has ignited a discourse on the approach of global technological giants towards issues such as caste, race, and ethnicity. Whether the caste system in India finds a replica in the social media companies across the world is debatable. Discrimination, according to many, is not limited to territorial boundaries. Among tech workers, concerns have arisen on caste-related disparities in the corporate world.

It is important to recognise that caste issues continue to be relevant. One of the biggest challenges that the makers of the Indian Constitution faced was the age-old caste system which, on the face of it, is antithetical to the tenets of a modern democracy. We are still confronted with this dangerous evil. Estimates say that about 3,000 castes and 25,000 sub-castes exist in India.

Casteism in India is unique and pernicious. Dr. Ambedkar said, "The effect of caste on the ethics of the Hindus is simply deplorable. Caste has killed public spirit. Caste has destroyed the sense of public charity. Caste has made public opinion impossible." He added that casteism has "completely disorganised and demoralised the Hindus".

The situation has not changed over the years. Gita Ramaswamy's recent book Land, Guns, Caste, Woman: The Memoir of a Lapsed Revolutionary is autobiographical but tells us about the shocking exploitation of Dalits by the upper caste landlords in Ibrahimpatnam in Telangana and elsewhere. The bonded labour that prevails among the Dalits is an Indian brutality. In her book, Gita also explains the efforts to organise the Dalits and the challenges that they faced.

In many parts of India, social reformation simply meant fighting against casteism. Periyar in Tamil Nadu, Phule in Maharashtra, Narayana Guru in Kerala, and many other saintly personalities across the country endeavoured to uplift the society from the clutches of casteism. It was not an easy task. Nor is it a task fulfilled.

The Constitution remains the most formidable political instrument against casteism. In the Constituent Assembly debates, H V Kamath endorsed the constitutional safeguards for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. He, however, said that in the future, Parliament might, after noting the progress of the historically marginalised communities, examine whether "it would be in the best interests of the country to abolish totally the distinction called Scheduled Castes or Tribes and there will be one big unified Hindu Community".

It was wishful thinking. Even the constitutional safeguards did not work. Articles 341 and 342 empowered the President to enlist the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. By way of special provisions like Articles 15 and 16, caste-based discrimination was sought to be replaced by protective and uplifting state action. Article 17 banned the practice of untouchability. The Protection of Civil Rights Act, 1955 penalised untouchability. Other atrocities against the Dalits were made punishable by the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Act,1989, which was amended subsequently. The so-called honour killings illustrated the false pride of the upper castes in India. Laws did not abolish the caste system.

Class discrimination is not limited to territorial boundaries. Nor is it merely a primitive rural phenomenon. It very much prevails in modern economic and societal life in varied ways. .... Indians have exported the prejudices of casteism abroad and the oppressed castes across the world need legal protection against this menace

Class discrimination is not limited to just territorial boundaries. Nor is it merely a primitive rural phenomenon. It very much prevails in modern economic and societal life in varied ways. Ashwini Deshpande explains this reality in her book, The Grammar of Caste (Oxford University Press, 2011). Suraj Yengde, a postdoctoral fellow at Harvard Kennedy School, in his seminal work, Caste Matters (2019) states: "Despite the academic and professional credentials that I had carefully honed, I was still treated like an uneducated labourer from my area—vulnerable and unprotected."

In a globalised world, casteism too has transcended national boundaries. It is an Indian form of apartheid with an age-old scheme for systemic exploitation. Suraj Yengde has noted that more than half of the households in India "admitted to practising or witnessing untouchability in urban capitals such as Delhi". Many Indians are now scattered across the world, in almost all the major cities. Therefore, caste prejudices too have been globalised. There is no point in denying the truth.

A general perception that the scale of justice is better in the contemporary world is widely shared. Thomas Piketty, in his work A Brief History of Equality (2022) says that "between 1780 and 2020, we see developments tending toward greater equality of status, property, income, genders and races within most regions and societies on the planet".

Caste in India, however, is different from race or ethnicity elsewhere. It is the oldest means of exploitation based on a person's birth, over which one does not have any control. No wonder caste escapes the executive and legislative measures which other nations take against discrimination. When racial or gender-based discrimination is met with stringent laws, the question of caste is either forgotten or unaddressed.

In 2018, the UK resolved to avoid a legislation against caste-based discrimination. Many Indians there believe that such a legislation is unnecessary as caste does not exist as a divisive force or means of exploitation there. This is far from reality. Indians have exported the prejudices of casteism abroad and the oppressed castes across the world need legal protection against this menace. Therefore, Thenmozhi's activism becomes significant. It has a constitutional message for the Indians here and abroad.

Parents must step up

This is with reference to the edit Bitter truths about Hyderabad horror (June 9). It has truly held a mirror to the crimes committed by children of politicians. I agree with the suggestion that children must be taught values. But if parents themselves lack these values, it is unlikely that their wards will imbibe the same. Sadly, this particular incident will soon be forgotten and horrors like this will continue to plague society. The victim's life is now permanently ruined. Perhaps, the parents of these juvenile criminals should be held accountable and also be punished.

RBI must rethink decisions

RBI has increased the repo rate from 4% to 4.9% to contain inflation. It said the inflationary pressure is due to the supply shocks that are related mostly to food items. But won't a higher lending rate lead to an increase in production costs and fuel inflation? The solution lies in improving the supply side. It looks like RBI is implementing monetary measures unsure of whether they will work or not.

Economic cost of war

This is with reference to the edit Surprising RBI decision to drop Q1 forecast for FY24 (June 9). RBI has no other option but to increase policy rates, which they have been reluctant to do earlier. The global economy has had a bad impact due to the Ukraine war and, hence, is in an unpredictable state. This could explain why the Reserve Bank of India refrained from publishing the forecasts for the first quarter of 2023–24.

The writer, through his incisive analysis, has shown that India is on the path to becoming a $5 trillion economy despite the challenges it has faced for the last eight years. The central government's bold steps on major economic, social and foreign policy fronts have left both Indian citizens and the world watching in awe.

Taliban want army training in India

Taliban Defence Minister Mullah Yaqub is also asking India to reopen its embassy in Kabul

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA's gesture of sending an official team to Kabul last week has prompted the ruling Taliban Defence Minister Mullah Yaqub to seek training of its army personnel in India.

Mullah Yaqub said strengthening of diplomatic ties with India was the first step for which a beginning has been made by the visit of Indian officials. It is learnt that Yaqub has also been asking India to reopen its embassy in Kabul.

Yaqub's comment has not yet elicited any Indian response as New Delhi does not recognise the Taliban as the elected representative of Afghan people.

"It is a long shot as of now to consider this (Mullah Yaqub's offer), but things seem to be settling on the ground between New Delhi and Kabul. The recent trip by Indian officials is a proof that India is willing to take the next step. We will have to wait and see how things take shape," said an expert on India-Afghanistan relations.

The Taliban leadership has also assured the Indian side of action against terrorist groups that use Afghanistan as a base to mount their attacks against India. The caveat is specific information needs to be given.

On the opening of the embassy in Kabul, the MEA had earlier said that though India stopped operating its embassy in August 2021, it has local staff who maintain the embassy and help in distribution of humanitarian assistance that arrives from India. Afghanistan continues to receive Indian humanitarian aid in the form of wheat, medicines and clothes.

Afghanistan has found a mention from India whenever there are talks amongst various groupings such as the Quad.

Climate change to impact India's clean energy goals

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

CLIMATE change is expected to impact India's future renewable energy production, a new study has said. The renewable energy fields of solar and wind potential in India are likely to face a negative trend in the future, an analysis by scientists from the ministry of earth sciences has shown.

The analysis could turn out to be a setback for India's ambitious renewable energy targets. Prime Minister Narendra Modi at the CoP26 Glashow climate change conference last year pledged that India will achieve net-zero carbon emissions by 2070 and that the country's 50 per cent energy requirement by 2030 will be met through non-fossil fuels.

Scientists at the Indian Institute of Tropical Meteorology, Pune, and Center for Prototype Climate Modeling, New York University, Abu Dhabi analysed the future wind and solar energy potential over the Indian landmass using climate model ensembles.

The analyses reveal that, in the future, seasonal and annual wind speed is likely to decrease over North India and increase in South India. On the other hand, solar radiation is estimated to decrease over the next 50 years during all seasons. It further said that the challenges posed by climate change can be overcome by including more farms and using highly efficient power generators than those available at present.

"With the estimated decrease in future wind and solar potential, expanded and more efficient networks of wind and solar farms are needed to increase renewable energy production. Therefore, investors in this sector should understand and consider possible changes due to climate change," said the analysis, which has been published in the Current Science journal June 10 edition.

Climate simulations for the past 55 years and future projections for 55 years are considered from six models for the analysis.

"Regional analysis of wind potential indicates that the frequency of high energy-producing wind speeds will decrease, whereas low energy-producing wind speeds are likely to increase in the future. In the solar potential regional analysis, future projections predict a shift in the frequency of solar radiation in the negative direction, implying that solar energy production will decrease in the immediate future. This can be attributed to the increase in total cloud cover," it said.

The regions which showed an increase in future solar projections are Ladakh, Himachal Pradesh and Uttarakhand. The southern coast of Odisha, and Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu show promising potential for wind energy. The southern and northwestern regions will have higher wind speed in the winter and monsoon months when the wind potential is maximum.

For future investments in the solar power sector, central and south-central India must be considered during pre-monsoon months, as the potential loss is minimum in these regions, the researchers said.

Rajya Sabha polls: Gehlot shows he is the 'boss'

No relief to Nawab Malik from Bombay HC

In a big jolt to Maha Vikas Aghadi, the Bombay High Court refused to grant permission to Nawab Malik to step out of custody under police escort for casting his vote. The court said though Malik had not used the word 'bail', the tenor of his plea was that of one seeking bail on bond under section 439 of the CrPC, and his court was not the appropriate one for granting of bail. The HC granted him the leave to amend his petition. Hours later, another High Court bench refused to entertain his petition. Anil Deshmukh was also denied bail.

Disgruntled Bishnoi keeps party guessing

In Haryana, Independent MLA Balraj Kundu from Meham who has been vocal against the BJP government abstained from voting. He also took a dig at the Congress for fielding Ajay Maken, saying the party had insulted people of Haryana by fielding an outsider. Meanwhile, Congress MLA Kuldeep Bishnoi from Adampur, who was not among the party legislators lodged at a resort in Raipur, kept the party on tenterhooks. After casting his vote, Bishnoi said he had voted "as per my conscience". Congress MLA Kuldeep Vats later claimed Bishnoi had given vote to the party candidate.

> It was clear that Congress had the required majority for all three seats. But BJP tried horse-trading ... The solidarity of our MLAs has given a befitting reply to this effort —ASHOK GEHLOT, Rajasthan CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE RS polls tested the mettle of the Congress regional satraps. For Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot, ensuring victory on three seats was a prestige issue to not just send out a message to the BJP but also to assert his control over the state unit when Sachin Pilot has been pushing for a leadership change ahead of assembly elections next year. "There were all odds as all three candidates were from outside the state and some MLAs were upset. The CM worked out the numbers and reached out to Independents and smaller parties," said a leader.

Gehlot and state Congress chief Govind Singh took the responsibility of polling agents to avoid mistakes. To keep the flock together, the MLAs were shifted to a resort in Udaipur. "It was more of a power play for Gehlot to show the leadership his control over state politics and his relationship with smaller parties," said a source.

In Haryana, lots were at stake for Congress Legislature Party leader Bhupinder Singh Hooda — who has been calling the shots after getting his aide Uday Bhan appointed Haryana Congress chief and forcing the party to field R S Surjewala from Rajasthan — to ensure Ajay Maken's win.

RESULTS of the RS poll battle in Maharashtra and Haryana are held up over alleged violation of rules.

In Maharashtra, BJP MLA Parab Alwani said NCP's Jitendra Awhad, Congress minister Yashomati Thakur and Shiv Sena MLA Suhas Kande handed over their voting paper to party authorised agents after the voting. The complaint was turned down by the presiding officer. The BJP then approached the EC.

The MVA, too, raised the same objection against BJP MLA Sudhir Mungantiwar. They also said Independent MLA Ravi Rana showed Hanuman Chalisa at Vidhan Bhavan in violation of the poll code.

In Haryana, BJP candidate K L Panwar and Independent Kartikeya Sharma sought cancellation of votes of Congress MLAs Kiran Choudhary and B B Batra alleging that they had showed their ballot papers to unauthorised persons, after which the counting of votes was put on hold.

COVID CASES RISE; CAN'T CALL IT NEW WAVE, SAY EXPERTS

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

INDIA has shown a 100 per cent increase in new Covid infections so far this month, with the test positivity rate (TPR) — a vital marker in assessing the spread of an outbreak — touching 2.26 on June 9. From June 1 to June 3, the TPR, which indicates the percentage of people who are found to be infected by the virus from those who are being tested – stayed below 1 per cent. But on June 4, it touched 1.03 and steadily climbed to 2.26 on June 9.

Covid-19 cases also rose in these nine days. On June 1, 3,712 cases were recorded, and on Friday, India registered 7,584 new Covid-19 cases – indicating a 100 per cent increase. Twenty-four deaths were also reported in the past 24 hours.

India had reported a gradual rise in Covid-19 cases since mid-May, when genome sequencing detected the presence of BA.4 and BA.5 sub-variants of Omicron.

Health ministry officials said the spike does not indicate the fourth wave. Dr N. K. Arora, head, Covid-19 working group, National Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation, said the rise in infections is "localised."

According to N C Krishna Prasad, an activist disseminating Covid-related statistics, though the cases are increasing, it cannot be termed as the fourth wave.

Dr K. Srinath Reddy, president, Public Health Foundation of India, said the jump suggests a new wave is building. "Factors such as abandonment of Covid protocols, waning of immunity, and emergence of new variants are writing the script for this sequel in the Covid movie," he said.

Dr Rajeev Jayadevan, co-chairman, National Indian Medical Association Covid-19 task force, said this is cyclical, like certain other infections. "Periods of surge will be followed by quiet months," he said.

The highest TPR was recorded on Jan. 24, 2022, when it touched 20.75 per cent. On May 2, 2021, it stood at 19.65.

SC dismisses plea seeking NEET PG counselling

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday dismissed a batch of petitions seeking a special stray round of counselling to fill 1,456 seats in NEET PG21 which have remained vacant after the conduct of a stray round of counselling for All-India Quota.

A bench of Justices M R Shah and Aniruddha Bose said there cannot be any compromise with the quality of medical education which will affect public health. The apex court said the decision of the government and the Medical Counselling Committee (MCC), not to allow special stray rounds, is in the interest of medical education and public health.

"When a conscious decision has been taken for not conducting any special stray rounds of counselling, it cannot be considered arbitrary," the bench said. The court reserved its order on Friday.

Additional Solicitor General Balbir Singh, appearing for the Centre, submitted that classes started in February and now holding classes for another 6-8 months is not feasible. He contended that the NEET 2022 teaching would be compromised if more counselling rounds are conducted. The SC on Wednesday had expressed displeasure over vacancy of seats in medical colleges in session 2021-22.

The Directorate General of Health Services had said that it has concluded four rounds of online counselling for NEET-PG-21 and it cannot fill 1,456 seats by conducting a special stray round as the software stands closed.

'Savarkar brought out truth of 1857 Independence war'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday said, "Had Veer Savarkar not written the account of the 1857 war of Independence, the truth would have remained hidden from later generations." He added, "Despite being crushed (by the British), they (the mutineers) achieved victory."

Shah was speaking at the launch of historian Umendra Ratnu's book, titled, Maharana: Sahastra Varshon Ka Dharmyudh (Maharanas: A Thousand Year War for Dharma). He said, "Many historians have written extensively on the Mughals but there has hardly been much work on the Ahoms, Pallavas, Chalukyas, Satavahanas or the Guptas, although each of them ruled for hundreds of years."

Shah said he was moved by the "selfless sacrifice of hundreds of thousands of valiant people over 800-900 years." It was because of them that "Indian culture and religion has remained alive, flourished and been victorious," he said. Adding that the Ahoms, Marathas, Mauryas and the Rashtrakutas had "fought many valiant battles," he said Sawai Man Singh had "settled with Akbar" and it was for this reason that in some parts of Gujarat he is often referred to "Hawai Man Singh".

Claiming that in the past "lies" have been propagated in Indian history, Shah gave the examples of Bappa Rawal and Rawal Ratan Singh who did not allow foreign invasion. However, Ratnu's book, Shah said, would banish "many wrong perceptions" about India's glorious past.

Army chief visits LAC along Himachal, Uttarakhand

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

ARMY chief Gen. Manoj Pande on Friday began his three-day forward area visit to the Line of Actual Control along Himachal Pradesh and Uttarakhand. He is accompanied by Army Commander, Central Command and GOC, Uttar Bharat Area.

"During visits to the forward posts, the Chief of Army Staff (COAS) is being briefed by local commanders about the prevailing situation along the borders. Taking a first-hand assessment of the operational preparedness in forward areas, the Army Chief is scheduled to witness the high-altitude operational capabilities of deployed formations, including mountaineering skills and long-range patrolling," the Indian Army said in a statement.

The COAS is also reviewing the ongoing infrastructure and development work and the Army-citizen connection in the forward areas. While interacting with the Commanders during his visit, the Army Chief emphasised upon the need for alertness along the borders.

He expressed his satisfaction on the "rapid improvement of defensive posture and operational readiness of formations," the statement added.

NHAI develops 72 ponds along highways across country

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has developed 72 "Amrit Sarovars," the road transport and highways ministry said on Friday.

Laying emphasis on the use of innovative ways to build an ecologically sustainable road framework, the NHAI planned to construct 493 ponds along the national highways across the country to rejuvenate water bodies and ground water.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi had launched a initiative named Mission Amrit Sarovar in April. The target is to develop and rejuvenate 75 water bodies in each district as a part of Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav celebration and commemoration of 75 years of Independence. The mission will lead to creation of 50,000 water bodies spread over an acre or more.

The ministry said the NHAI has taken several initiatives to build a holistic and sustainable national highway network, including honouring people for outstanding work, building sustainable practices and creating road safety awareness.

The NHAI also held a two-day conference of Regional Officers in Srinagar on 9-10 June. The initiative aimed to bring together NHAI officials and regional stakeholders from Jammu and Kashmir, Himachal Pradesh, Punjab, Haryana, and Delhi onto a common platform to share knowledge, achievements, and challenges.

Apart from project reviews, a knowledge sharing session on 'Building Sustainable Highways in Himalayan Region' was also conducted.

Valley welcomes a million visitors

Despite targeted killings, picturesque Kashmir sees record tourist arrivals in this year so far

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

TOURIST footfall in Kashmir has crossed whopping one million-mark this year — highest in the militancy-hit Valley in over a decade — despite the recent spurt in targeted killings by militants.

Director of Tourism Kashmir Dr G N Itoo told this newspaper that more than 10 lakh tourists have visited Kashmir in the six months of the year.

All the hotels in Srinagar and health resorts of Pahalgam, Gulmarg and Sonamarg are witnessing 100 per cent occupancy. Besides, houseboats are also witnessing 70-80 per cent occupancy.

Itoo said it is for the first time in the past 12 years that one million tourists have visited the Valley. Even though footfall of visitors in 2016 had crossed 12 lakh, the figure included Amarnath pilgrims also.

"But this year, the Amarnath Yatra has not started yet and we are only in the sixth month of the year and we have crossed one million tourist arrivals," he said.

Itoo said the road shows organised by tourism stakeholders in different parts of the country had a positive impact and now tourists from across the country are thronging Kashmir. Visitors continue to throng the Valley and there has been no impact on the inflow after recent targeted killings, he said.

Travel Agents Association of India (TAAI) Kashmir chapter president Zahoor Ahmad Qari said this year Kashmir has witnessed a consistent footfall.

The hotels have advanced booking for about a month and bookings from the travellers are being received consistently by the hoteliers. Qari said they receive 20-30 enquiries per day and there has been no let up in the enquiries after the targeted killings by militants since May.

He said the targeted killings did not impact Kashmir tourism and there had been no cancellations. Qari said if the trend continues and there is not another Covid wave, Kashmir will witness a bumper tourist season this year.

The rise in numbers has brought smiles back on the faces of all tourism stakeholders.

"The inflow has given us a ray of hope. We had been struggling for survival from 2019 till last year. Some of us had to sell our properties to manage day-to-day affairs and to carry out maintenance of our houseboats despite the Valley recording near zero tourist inflow for three years," said houseboat owner Abdul Rashid.

A hotelier said it was not possible to cover all the losses in one season or one year.

Violence in UP and J'khand; shutdown in parts of Kashmir

Carts set on fire during a protest march in Ranchi on Friday | PTI

PROTESTS on Friday over the objectionable remarks against Prophet Mohammad made by two now-suspended BJP functionaries turned violent in Jharkhand and UP. Incidents of stone-throwing and arson were reported from a few cities including Ranchi (Jharkhand), Saharanpur and Prayagraj (UP).

In the national capital, protests erupted outside the Jama Masjid soon after Friday prayers with hundreds of people demanding the arrest of suspended BJP spokesperson Nupur Sharma for her controversial remarks. People gathered on the steps of the historical mosque, carrying placards and shouting slogans. There was heavy police deployment to manage the situation.

Meanwhile, several parts of Kashmir witnessed spontaneous shutdown and protests against the controversial remarks. Authorities imposed curfew in communally sensitive Bhaderwah area of Jammu province and suspended mobile services in many parts of J&K. The shutdown was spontaneous as no political or religious group had called for any protest. As a precautionary measure, authorities disallowed Friday prayers at historic Jamia Masjid in downtown Srinagar.

In Jharkhand capital Ranchi, the district administration imposed a curfew.

People raised slogans and threw stones in UP's Prayagraj.

In Navi Mumbai, at least 3,000 protesters, including around 1,000 women, took out a protest march. Protest gatherings or marches were also held in Thane, Aurangabad, Solapur, Nandurbar, Parbhani, Beed, Latur, Bhandara, Chandrapur and Pune districts of Maharashtra.

BHOPAL MP PRAGYA DEFENDS NUPUR SHARMA

Controversial BJP MP Pragya Thakur on Friday defended the remarks of Nupur Sharma. "If anyone denigrates our gods and goddesses, we'll tell the truth about their's. We're ready to hear what they have to say. But when we tell the truth, it pains them," Thakur said.

Uma distances herself from kin's candidature

In a surprising development, former chief minister Uma Bharti has distanced herself from her relative and BJP MLA Rahul Singh Lodhi's wife, Umita Singh, who is contesting the Tikamgarh district panchayat polls. In a recent tweet, while praising Umita's intellect, the former Union minister said she didn't know whether Umita is a saffron party member, so it is left to the party to decide about her candidature in the election. Recently Leader of the Opposition Dr Govind Singh had alleged that Lodhi was intimidating a Scheduled Caste women candidate to withdraw from the race to ensure his wife's victory from the Scheduled Caste-dominated Tikamgarh district panchayat ward.

BJP neta in trouble over accusing Kamal Nath

State BJP spokesperson and former chairperson of MP Civil Supplies Corporation Dr Hitesh Bajpai is in trouble over his recent tweet in which he had accused state Congress chief and former CM Kamal Nath of selling party tickets for mayoral posts. The state Congress has submitted a complaint against Bajpai at the police cyber cell and is planning to send a defamation notice to the BJP leader over his accusations.

AIMIM to contest urban polls in 7 districts

The Asaduddin Owaisi-headed AIMIM will field candidates in the two-phase urban local body elections in seven districts of Madhya Pradesh next month. These districts are Bhopal, Indore, Ratlam, Burhanpur, Khandwa, Khargone and Jabalpur. The decision in this regard was taken at a meeting of the party in Hyderabad on Thursday. The list of candidates in the seven urban local bodies (having sizeable presence of Muslims) will be finalised next week. Recently, the SDPI (political arm of PFI) announced contesting urban local body polls in MP districts with sizeable Muslim population.

PM Modi arrives to inaugurate projects in tribal-dominated Navsari district | EXPRESS

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on a one-day visit to Gujarat on Friday inaugurated multiple development initiatives at Khudvel, a tribal region in Navsari district.

The PM's schedule included inauguration of seven projects, stone-laying for a dozen others and 'Bhumi Pujan' for 14 others. These projects will facilitate ease of living with improved water supply and better connectivity.

"Those who ruled the country for a long time never took interest in the development of tribal areas as it requires hard work," said the PM while addressing a huge gathering of tribal communities at Navsari. "Gujarat prides itself on the rapid development of the state. The double-engine government is sincerely carrying forward the glorious tradition".

"Many would say it's election time so the government is in a rush to show off its work. The fact is it would be hard to find even a week when no development work was taken up by our government."

He recalled the days when even installing a hand pump, which would malfunction in a year, would become news. Today, I am proud to inaugurate ₹3,000-crore projects in tribal areas."

The PM interacted with beneficiaries of multiple government schemes in Navsari. He sought feedback on how people have benefitted from such schemes. People shared their individual stories.

Also, the Prime Minister inaugurated the headquarters of the Indian National Space Promotion and Authorisation Centre (IN-SPACe) at Bopal in Ahmedabad. The event saw the exchange of MoUs between IN-SPACe and private sector companies working in the field of space-based applications and services.

INSPACe is an independent nodal agency under the Department of Space that allows its facilities to be used by private entities.

PROBE ON SOREN: JHARKHAND GOVT MOVES SC AGAINST HC ORDER

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

THE Jharkhand government has again filed Special Leave Petition (SLP) in the Supreme Court challenging the order passed by Jharkhand HC on the maintainability of a PIL seeking probe against CM Hemant Soren.

Jharkhand High Court on June 3 had given its approval for the hearing on the PIL seeking probe against Soren for the alleged irregularities in the grant of mining leases and also on transactions of some shell companies purportedly operated by his family and associates.

According to the PIL filed by an RTI activist Shiv Shankar Sharma, CM Soren and his brother Basant Soren invested black money through businessmen Ravi Kejriwal, Ramesh Kejriwal, Amit Agrawal and several others in 28 small companies to get them converted into white money. Sharma in his PIL also demanded probe by the CBI and ED into the shell companies which are being run in other states including Bihar and West Bengal.

Advocate General Rajeev Ranjan, while hearing on the matter at Jharkhand High Court on Friday, informed the division bench of Chief Justice Dr Ravi Ranjan and Justice SN Prasad that the state government has moved to the Supreme Court against the order passed by it on June 3 in which the maintainability petition filed by the state was rejected. Therefore, the hearing may be deferred till any direction is passed by the Supreme Court.

The court, however, categorically said that the hearing cannot be stayed on the ground as earlier the matter had gone before the Supreme Court and it had already passed an order in the matter.

3 Cong MLAs to fight MP mayor polls next month

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bhopal

THE upcoming mayoral elections in Madhya Pradesh are likely to witness pitched battles as opposition Congress has fielded its three sitting MLAs in the fray. The elections will be held on July 6 and 13.

While first-time MLA from Indore-I Sanjay Shukla has been named the party's Mayor candidate for Indore city, sitting MLA from Tarana (SC) seat Mahesh Parmar has been finalised as the candidate from adjoining Ujjain. Another first-time legislator Siddharth Kushwah has been fielded in Satna.

Out of the 16 mayoral posts going to polls, the grand old party has finalised candidates for 15.

While the Congress has declared candidates for 15 mayor posts, the ruling BJP has constituted panels for deciding names of candidates.

In 2014, the BJP had made a clean sweep, winning all 16 municipal corporations.

INDISCRIMINATE FIRING

'Depressed' constable kills woman, self in Kolkata

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

A police constable in his late 20s, posted at the office of the deputy high commissioner, Kolkata, opened fire indiscriminately from his rifle on Friday afternoon, killing a woman physiotherapist riding pillion and committed suicide by shooting himself later. What prompted the policeman, Chodup Lepcha, to open fire is yet to be ascertained.

Eyewitnesses said that the constable fired at least 15 to 17 rounds of bullets. "It seems Lepcha was suffering from depression. It is yet to be ascertained whether his act was because of it. We will speak to his family members, colleagues and friends," said additional commissioner of police Praveen Tripathi.

"The physiotherapist in her 30s, identified as Rima Singh, resident of Howrah, was shot on her head when she was travelling through the area riding the pillion of a motorcycle. She died on the spot. None of the local residents dared to rescue her on seeing the gun-toting constable who kept firing even after the woman slumped on the road," said a police officer.

The scared bike rider, who is also said to be injured in the firing, managed to speed away. The police said that it was Lepcha's first day of duty after he returned from leave.

"It was around 2.30 pm, we saw him walking along the road with the rifle. Suddenly, he started firing indiscriminately. A few children were playing on the road. Initially, they thought it was sounds of fire-crackers. But when they saw the policeman firing indiscriminately, they ran away. I, too, got scared and fled," said Danish Khan, a local resident.

Punjab CM seeks Canadian govt's support to nab absconding gangsters

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

CM Bhagwant Mann with Canada High Commissioner Cameron Mackay | PTI

PUNJAB Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann on Friday sought support of the Canada government in nabbing Punjabi gangsters operating from that country.

Mann flagged the issue with Canadian High Commissioner Cameron Mackay, who called on the former at his residence on Friday. Mann expressed concern over the mushrooming of gangs in both the countries. He informed the envoy that gangsters operating from Canadian soil are disturbing the hard-earned peace of the state. Mann said these gangsters create law, order problems on the one hand, and derail the progress of the state, on the other.

Advocating strictest action against the gangsters, Mann said it would deter others. He also called for a joint police operation between Canada and Punjab.

The CM asked the Canadian High Commissioner to explore the feasibility of having a direct tie-up between Punjab and Canada Police.

The Interpol has already issued a Red Corner Notice against Satinderjeet Singh alias Goldy Brar, a gangster currently living in Canada who has claimed responsibility for the killing of singer Sidhu Moose Wala. It has also issued a Red Corner Notice against fugitive terrorist Harwinder Singh Sandhu aka Rinda who is believed to be living in Pakistan and is backed by Babbar Khalsa International (BKI) and ISI.

BJP downplays JD-U neta's pitch for 'President Nitish'

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

POLITICAL weather in Bihar has heated up yet again after a senior JD-U minister made a call for naming Chief Minister Nitish Kumar as the Presidential candidate. Alliance partner BJP, however, downplayed it.

JD-U minister Shravan Kumar kick started the debate by saying Nitish should be made the Presidential candidate as "he has all the abilities to assume the top constitutional post". "Nitish is not in the race for the top post but everybody wants to see him as the President. He will be a better Presidential candidate and will also hold the responsibility well," he added.

"Nitish ji possesses all qualities to become Rashtrapati," he asserted. The minister also claimed that Nitish has a "large vision on national and international issues". "Every Bihari will be happy to have Nitish Kumar as the next President," he added.

The saffron camp, meanwhile, downplayed the JD-U leader's statement. "When the presidential candidate would be declared formally, I would react," firebrand BJP leader Giriraj Singh told reporters in Muzaffarpur.

In the same vein, senior Bihar BJP minister Ramsurat Kumar said the matter will be settled when the name is announced. "In democratic set-up, everybody has the right to contest elections," Kumar, state's revenue minister, said.

In the past two occasions, Nitish had sprang surprises during the Presidential elections.

Capitol riot panel blames Trump for Jan 6 attack

Lays out 'coup' details; panel's biggest challenge is to ensure images of violence pack intended political punch

WASHINGTON

AMERICANS were served up an engrossing night of television as a congressional panel laid out in damning detail Donald Trump's culpability in last year's US Capitol insurrection.

Yet 17 months after the mayhem, the biggest challenge for the House of Representatives committee investigating the riot could be ensuring the brutal images of violence it played in prime time will pack the intended political punch.

Thursday's presentation was devastating for Trump, who was characterised as an ongoing threat to US democracy as he bids to carry his campaign to steal the last election into the next. The committee's footage of hand-to-hand combat between police defending Congress and the mob Trump sent marching on the Capitol made for gut-wrenching viewing.

The House select panel probing the January 6 attack on the US Capitol holds its first public hearing on Capitol Hill in Washington on Thursday | AP

The hearing concluded with video of several members of the mob saying they marched on the Capitol simply because Trump had asked them to.

Liz Cheney — a rising Republican star until she refused to accept Trump's false claims of a stolen election — carefully fileted every aspect of the former president's so-called "Big Lie."

She repeatedly referred to the "illegality" of his "sophisticated seven-point plan" to overturn the election. Testimony from Trump's closest allies — including his attorney general Bill Barr and daughter Ivanka — underscored that he had been made aware again and again how dangerous his conspiracy theories were.

The night got progressively worse for Trump, who didn't lift a finger for hours to help quell the insurrection, according to the committee. And there were gasps in the room when Cheney quoted a witness claiming that Trump had said vice-president Mike Pence deserved to be hanged by the mob storming the Capitol.

The challenge for Democrats will be to ensure that his latest calumny registers with voters.

While powerful images of the carnage may have jogged memories, much of the outrage appears to have dissipated since January last year, with voters increasingly focused on pocketbook issues such as soaring inflation.

In a YouGov/University of Massachusetts poll in May, just 42% of respondents backed the drive to hold the insurrectionists accountable.

"Trump is still doing well with his followers at the grassroots level," said Ahmed Zohny, a political science professor at Coppin State University in Baltimore.

"So unless the congressional committee on January 6 comes up with criminal evidence that prevents him from running again, it is unlikely that the (Republicans) in both the House and Senate will go against him." AFP

I couldn't believe my eyes: Capitol officer

Washington: Capitol Police Officer Caroline Edwards described to lawmakers the "war scene" that she and other officers faced when rioters began viciously attacking them on January 6, 2021. "It was something like I've seen in movies. I couldn't believe my eyes," Edwards said. "There were officers on the ground. They were bleeding. I was slipping in people's blood. It was carnage, It was chaos," she said. "Never in my wildest dreams did I think as a police officer that I would find myself in the middle of a battle," Edwards said. AP

Former Pak prez Gen Musharraf critical, says family

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

Former Pakistan President General Pervez Musharraf, who has been hospitalised for the past three weeks in Dubai, is critical. He is suffering from a condition termed amyloidosis (which is caused due to a protein build up).

"He is going through a difficult stage where recovery is not possible and his organs are malfunctioning," read a statement made by his family.

The All Pakistan Muslim League (APML) party's overseas president, Afzaal Siddiqui, had said that Gen Musharraf's condition had weakened his nervous system.

Gen Musharraf left Pakistan for Dubai in 2016 for medical treatment and never returned.

Born in Delhi, the 79-year-old rose to prominence when he was promoted to a four star general by Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif in 1998, making him the head of armed forces. He led the Kargil infiltration that brought India and Pakistan close to a full-fledged war in 1999.

After months of strained relations between Sharif and the General, Sharif managed to strip Musharraf as the army's leader.

This led to a coup in 1999 which enabled Musharraf to take over as the 10th President of Pakistan in 2001.

Sharif was placed under house arrest and criminal proceedings were filed against him as a result of which Sharif and his brother (the present Prime Minister of Pakistan Shehbaz Sharif) went on exile to Saudi Arabia.

Now that General Musharraf is counting his last days, Nawaz Sharif is all set to return to Pakistan where his brother is holding fort as the present prime minister.

'TALIBAN TORTURING CIVILIANS'

ISLAMABAD

TALIBAN security forces in northern Afghanistan have unlawfully detained and tortured residents accused of association with an opposition armed group, New York-based Human Rights Watch said in a statement on Friday.

Since mid-May 2022, fighting has escalated in Panjshir province as National Resistance Front forces have attacked Taliban units and checkpoints, HRW said.

The Taliban have responded by deploying thousands of fighters, who have carried out search operations targeting communities they allege are supporting the NRF, the group added. "Taliban have committed summary executions and enforced disappearances of captured fighters and detainees, which are war crimes,' also in other provinces, it said.

In a mountainous valley north of Kabul, the last remnants of Afghanistan's shattered security forces have vowed to resist the Taliban in a remote region that has defied conquerors before. Nestled in the towering Hindu Kush, the Panjshir Valley has a single narrow entrance. Local fighters held off the Soviets there in the 80s, and the Taliban a decade later under Ahmad Shah Massoud's leadership. AP

'War fatigue' may erode West's resolve to help

KYIV

AS Russia's invasion of Ukraine grinds into its fourth month, officials in Kyiv have expressed fears that the specter of "war fatigue" could erode the West's resolve to help the country push back Moscow's aggression.

The US and its allies have given billions of dollars in weaponry to Ukraine. Europe has taken in millions of people displaced by the war. And there has been unprecedent unity in post-World War II Europe in imposing sanctions on President Vladimir Putin and his country. But as the shock of the February 24 invasion subsides, analysts say the Kremlin could exploit a dragged-out, entrenched conflict and possible waning interest among Western powers that might lead to pressuring Ukraine into a settlement.

A Ukrainian tank moves through Donetsk region in eastern Ukraine | AP

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy already has chafed at Western suggestions he should accept some sort of compromise. Ukraine, he said, would decide its own terms for peace. "The fatigue is growing, people want some kind of outcome (that is beneficial) for themselves, and we want (another) outcome for ourselves," he said. Every month of the war is costing Ukraine $5 billion, said Volodymyr Fesenko, political analyst with the Penta Center think tank, and that "makes Kyiv dependent on the consolidated position of the Western countries." Ukraine will need even more advanced weaponry to secure victory. AP

UN OFFICE CONCERNED ABOUT FIGHTERS' TRIAL

The UN human rights office has voiced concern about the death sentences imposed by pro-Moscow rebels in Ukraine on three captured foreigners who were fighting on the Ukrainian side. A court in the Donetsk People's Republic found two Britons and one Moroccan guilty of seeking the violent overthrow of power. German foreign ministry said the "shocking" sentences show "once more Russia's complete disregard for international humanitarian law". The death sentences should be conside-red null and void, said Ukraine. AP/ AFP

Israeli settlers may lose special West Bank status

JERUSALEM

ISRAELI settlers in the occupied West Bank may soon get a taste of the military rule that Palestinians have been living under for 55 years.

If Israel's parliament does not act, a special legal status accorded to the settlers will expire at the end of the month, with wide-ranging consequences.

Lawyers who live in the settlements will no longer be allowed to practice law. Settlers would be subject to military courts usually reserved for Palestinians and would lose access to some public services. While few expect things to reach that point, the looming deadline has put Israel's government on the brink of collapse and drawn dire warnings.

'Without this law, it would be a disaster,' said Israel Ganz, governor of the Benyamin Regional Council. 'The Israeli government will lose any control here.' For over half a century, Israel has repeatedly renewed regulations that today extend a legal umbrella to nearly 500,000 settlers ' but not to the more than 2.5 million Palestinians in the region. AP

Los Angeles Declaration: Biden, Latin American leaders reach migration pact

LOS ANGELES

PRESIDENT Joe Biden and other Western Hemisphere leaders are set to announce on Friday what is being billed as a roadmap for countries to host large numbers of migrants and refugees. "The Los Angeles Declaration" is perhaps the biggest achievement of the Summit of the Americas, which was undercut by differences over Biden's invitation list. Leaders of Mexico and several Central American countries sent top diplomats instead after the US excluded Cuba, Nicaragua and Venezuela.

A set of principles to be announced on Friday on the summit's final day includes legal pathways to enter countries, aid to communities most affected by migration, humane border management and coordinated emergency responses, according to a senior US official who briefed reporters ahead of an official announcement.

President Joe Biden speaks with guests as he and first lady Jill Biden host a dinner in Los Angeles | AP

It is a blueprint already being followed to a large extent by Colombia and Ecuador, whose right-leaning leaders were warmly greeted at the summit for welcoming many of the 6 million people who have left Venezuela in recent years.

President Guillermo Lasso of Ecuador last week announced temporary status for Venezuelans in his country, estimated to be around 500,000.

He said at a panel discussion Tuesday that his country was paying back the generosity of Spain and the US for welcoming large numbers of Ecuadoreans who fled more than two decades ago. President Ivan Duque of Colombia got standing ovations on Thursday for describing how his government has granted temporary status to 1 million Venezuelans. AP

Italy's Pompeii tests new guard dog — a robot named Spot

POMPEII

UNDER the amused gaze of many tourists, a robot dog wanders the ancient stone alleys of Pompeii's famous archaeological park. Meet Spot, a friendly, yellow-and-black remote-controlled creature with a gangly gait who looks like a dog crossed with an insect — all wrapped up in a robot's body.

Spot's current mission at Pompeii is to inspect hard-to-access areas of the sprawling ruins, to collect data and alert his handlers to safety and structural problems.

"Particularly underground structures where safety conditions won't allow (staff) to enter, such as in the park's many very narrow and dangerous tunnels," Pompeii's general director, Gabriel Zuchtriegel, told AFP. His purvey includes surveying tunnels dug out in clandestine excavations, which Zuchtriegel said "unfortunately still take place in the area".

With its excavated ruins spread out over 44 hectares (109 acres), the archaeological site preserves the remains of the ancient wealthy city south of Naples, buried by ash after the eruption of nearby Mount Vesuvius in 79 AD.

Spot — who weighs 70 kilograms (154 pounds) and is about the size of a Golden Retriever — is controlled remotely with a tablet and better equipped than people to survey certain areas of the park. The robot is made by US company Boston Dynamics, which specialises in robotics, including for the military. The company's website says Spot can be used in industries such as construction, mining and manufacturing, among others, carrying out inspections and capturing data.

Controlling Spot this week in Pompeii was Valerio Brunelli, business developer for Leica Geosystem, which makes a 3D flying scanner, resembling a drone, that accompanies the robot in its rounds. AFP

LIC to look into stock price fall

The share fell to ₹708.70 on Friday; Tuhin Kanta Pandey said FinMin is concerned about it

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government is concerned about the recently-listed Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) shares touching new lows every day, and it is planning to hold consultation with large investors to convince them to stay in the stock for a long term.

With LIC share price dipping to an all-time low of ₹708.70 on Friday, disinvestment secretary Tuhin Kanta Pandey said on Friday the disinvestment department of the finance ministry is concerned about the fall in the insurance behemoth's share prices. He said the LIC management would do everything possible to increase shareholders' value.

"We are concerned about temporary blip in LIC share prices. LIC management will look into the issue and discuss shareholders' benefit. Investors have lost money in LIC due to temporary demand and supply. We need wide range of investors who stay invested in LIC looking at its strong fundamentals" Pandey said. There seems to be no end to the misery for LIC investors as this week alone the stock has fell 10%. On Friday, share prices of LIC touched a new low of 708.70 on the BSE and closed the session at ₹709.70, lower 1.70% than previous day's closing.

Till date, LIC has wiped out over 1.50 lakh crore of investors' wealth, becoming one of the largest wealth guzzlers of recent times. At the end of Friday's trading session, LIC's market cap came down to ₹4,48,886 crore against a m-cap of ₹6,00,242 crore based on the upper end of its IPO price (₹949). LIC, which had launched India's largest IPO on May 17 got listed at the bourses at a discount of 8%. Since then the stock has plummeted nearly 19% even as few brokerages have maintained a neutral view on the stock. Brokerage firm Emkay in a recent report titled "the elephant that can't dance" initiated coverage on LIC with a hold rating and a June 2023 target price of ₹875 while foreign brokerage Macquarie had earlier initiates coverage on LIC with 'neutral' rating and suggested a target of ₹1,000.

Deepak Jasani, Head of Retail Research, HDFC Securities, said the latest quarterly results did not excite investors (especially institutional) to buy the stock and the fact that the determination of embedded value of LIC was delayed was not taken well by the investors.

JAPANESE YEN JUMPS ON FRIDAY

The Japanese yen jumped on Friday after the government and the central bank in a rare joint statement expressed concern about its recent slide to hit two-decade lows, while the dollar edged higher ahead of key U.S. inflation data. After a meeting with his Bank of Japan (BOJ) counterpart, the country's top currency diplomat Masato Kanda told reporters that Tokyo will take appropriate action as needed, a sign Japan may be edging closer to intervening in the market in a bid to arrest the yen's declines. The yen has been battered by traders wagering that the BOJ will stick with its ultra-accommodative policy stance just as the Federal Reserve and other central banks accelerate their tightening to tame soaring inflation. The latest comments "should be a lid on dollar/yen in the short term," Cole added, but "in the long term, there's little that they can do as it flies in the face of the policy stance". The yen rallied to as strong as 133.37 yen per dollar , up 0.7% on the session, before settling at 133.79. On Thursday it plumbed as weak as 134.56, levels last seen in early 2002. The yen also rallied versus the euro, with the single currency last down 0.8% at 141.65 yen.

PAKISTAN

TO MAKE IMF-BACKED ECO ADJUSTMENTS IN BUDGET

Pakistan's government is set to present a budget for financial year 2022-23 on Friday aimed at tight fiscal consolidation in a bid to convince the International Monetary Fund (IMF) to release much-needed bailout payments for the cash-strapped country. The budget, which targets 5% growth in gross domestic product (GDP) for the fiscal year through June 2023, comes a day after the government released its annual economic survey for FY2021-22. It reported a growth rate of 5.97% for the fiscal year, but the South Asian nation of 220 million is facing a balance of payments crisis. Currency reserves have fallen as low as $9.2 billion, not enough for 45 days of imports, while the current account deficit is widening, the fiscal deficit stands at historic levels, the currency is weakening and inflation is running at double-digit percentages. The IMF and Pakistani officials concluded talks last month, with the fund asking for bailout programme objectives, including fiscal consolidation, to be put back on track. It is unclear when the Fund plans to consider clearing the release of over $900 million of the latest tranche of the $6 billion, 39-month programme Pakistan entered in 2019. One of the key steps, a removal of costly fuel subsidies, has already been implemented by the government, with fuel prices being raised by 40%.

THAILAND

TO GO SLOW WITH RATE HIKES

A shift by Thailand's central financial institution to a extra hawkish footing this week shocked markets and appeared to lastly finish policymakers' tolerance for mounting worth pressures, however a variety of dangers are prone to maintain any tightening gradual. The Financial institution of Thailand stored its benchmark rate of interest (THCBIR=ECI) at a file low on Wednesday however a break up vote on the choice was a sign to markets that the central financial institution could increase rates of interest as quickly as August. Thailand has been among Asia's least hawkish central banks, sustaining its coverage deal with supporting an economic system nonetheless scuffling with the pandemic — significantly a scarcity of Chinese language vacationers — and insisting supply-driven inflation is best handled by means of fiscal measures and worth controls, not charges. Kobsidthi Silpachai, head of capital markets analysis of Kasikornbank, sees the BOT to lift charges in August by 25 foundation factors to 0.75%, however believes such tightening will be a symbolic gesture to markets greater than an try and sort out inflation. Three of the BOT's 7 committee members voted for a fee hike this week, a distinction to its August assembly at which 2members voted for a reduce. Thailand's headline inflation hits a close to 14-year excessive of seven.1% in Could, properly above the BOT's goal vary of 1-3%.

IIP jumps to eight-month high at 7.1% in April

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE Index of Industrial Production (IIP) for the month of April grew by 7.1% year-on-year, the highest in eight months, aided by the low base due to the second wave of Covid 19, data released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI) showed. Industrial output stood at 2.2% in March.

The growth of eight core sectors was at 8.4% in April, up from 4.9% in March. These eight core sectors comprise 40.3% of the total weightage of the IIP. In April 2022, the quick estimates of IIP with base year 2011-12 stood at 135%. The IIP for the mining, manufacturing and electricity sectors for April 2022 stood at 116.0, 132.5 and 194.5, respectively. "The growth rates over corresponding period of the previous year are to be interpreted considering the unusual circumstances on account of COVID 19 pandemic since March 2020," the government said. As per use-based classification, the indices stood at 139.3 for primary goods, 90.6 for capital goods, 150.2 for intermediate goods and 149.4 for infrastructure/construction goods for April 2022. Further, the indices for consumer durables and consumer non-durables stood at 112.1 and 140.4, respectively, for April 2022, the data revealed.

"In terms of the use-based categories, the clear laggards were consumer non-durables and infra/construction goods, with YoY growths of 0.3% and 3.8%, respectively. However, these are among the categories that were less affected by the second wave of covid-19 in April 2021,"Aditi Nayar, Chief Economist at ICRA Ltd said.

INDIA RATING

Fitch revises upwards India outlook to stable

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Rating agency Fitch has revised upwards India's outlook from Negative to Stable even as it maintained the country's long-term foreign-currency issuer default rating (IDR) at BBB-.

The rating agency attributed the outlook revision to diminishing downside risks to medium-term growth prospects due India's rapid economic recovery and easing financial sector weaknesses, despite near-term headwinds from the global commodity price shock.

Fitch says high nominal GDP growth has facilitated a near-term cut in debt-to-GDP ratio, even if public finances remain a credit weakness. It says India's external resilience from solid foreign-exchange reserve buffers offsets some lagging structural indicators. Fitch forecasts debt-to-GDP ratio to drop to 83.0% in FY23 from a peak of 87.6% in FY21. It, however, says debt-to-GDP ratio remains high compared to the 56% peer median. It has predicted GDP growth in FY23 to be 7.8%, which is much higher than the 3.4% median growth rate among countries rated BBB. Recently, the RBI predicted a 7.2% growth rate in FY23. India grew by 8.7% in the previous financial year. On Inflation, Fitch believes inflation in India will remain elevated in FY23 at 6.9% (compared to RBI's estimate of 6.7%), due to the sharp rise in global commodity prices and underlying demand pressures. It feels RBI would continue to increase repo rate in FY23 till it reaches 6.15%. The country's central bank on Wednesday raised the policy repo rate by 90 bps to 4.90%.

On financial sector stability, the rating agency said that conditions in the financial sector have improved in recent years, which should facilitate better credit allocation and investment in the medium term.

Rajiv Bajaj takes a swipe at current regulatory norms for EV fire incidents

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Bajaj Auto Managing Director Rajiv Bajaj | EXPRESS

AS the incidents of electric scooters bursting into flames continue, Bajaj Auto Managing Director Rajiv Bajaj on Friday took a dig at the underlying process of manufacturing by start-ups and questioned the regulatory environment for electric vehicles (EVs).

"I am amazed that people with no R&D (research & development), no engineering, no real purchase function, nothing more than half an assembly facility are importing parts, which have not been validated for the marketplace and are just putting it out... The relevant authorities in the government have deliberately diluted the norms. Under the guise of low-speed vehicles, you can bring any junk from anywhere and put it onto the roads," said Bajaj. Bajaj added that the issue is not the fire itself but the underlying process of the manufacturing. He also took a dig at the ever increasing number of players in the domestic EV market and said that people who have no business to be in the business of EVs are trying to be in this space.

"You have 10 large manufacturers in the internal combustion engine space, but in the EV space, there is a new EV maker every day. You call them start-ups, I call them upstarts," he said. Since the onset of summer, over half a dozen e-scooters, especially ones manufactured by start-ups, have exploded due to exact reasons yet to be known. These incidents, which also have claimed lives, have reduced demand for EVs last month.

ADIA buys 20% in IIFL Home Fin for ₹2,200 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

IIFL Home Finance, a subsidiary of IIFL Finance, has entered into definitive agreements for raising ₹2,200 crore of primary capital for a 20% stake from a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Abu Dhabi Investment Authority (ADIA).

ADIA is the Emirate of Abu Dhabi's sovereign wealth fund.

The deal completion is subject to regulatory approvals. This would be one of the largest equity investments in the affordable housing finance segment in India by a financial investor. IIFL Home Finance Limited proposes to use the additional capital to continue its granular expansion strategy into new markets to address the significant and growing demand for housing loans.

"The investment recognizes IIFL Home Finance's position as one of India's largest providers of affordable housing loans and how well it is placed to continue to target the large, resilient housing finance market," said Nirmal Jain, Founder, IIFL Group.

"The investment aims to support the company for its next phase of growth, as it meets the significant demand in India's large, underserved and fast-growing affordable housing finance market", said Hamad Shahwan Aldhaheri, Executive Director of the Private Equities Department at ADIA.

Avendus Capital & IIFL Securities were the financial advisors to IIFL Home Finance for the transaction.

IIFL Home Finance had assets under management of ₹23,617 crore as of March 31, 2022. The company offers small-ticket housing loans, loans against property and construction finance.

Markets tank on rising global inflation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

RISING inflationary fears gripped the market, with Nifty and Sensex ending lower on cues from the overnight fall in the US markets and the rupee plunging to a new low.

FIIs sold a provisional ₹3,974 crore worth of Indian shares, dragging down the Nifty by 1.68% to 16,201.8 and the Sensex by 1.84% to 54,303.44, which left investors poorer by ₹3.13 lakh crore. Their selling also contributed to the fall in the rupee to a record low of 77.93/USD before it recovered some of its losses to close at 77.83 on Friday. Financials and commodity stocks led the declines with Kotak Bank slumping nearly 4% to ₹1,791.8, followed by Bajaj Finance, HDFC, Hindalco and Reliance, which fell 3-4%.

Global events like the US FOMC meet next week and US retail inflation data for May hitting a 40-year high would set the tone for the Indian market next week. Analysts expect the downtrend to continue. Rohit Srivastava, founder IndiaCharts, pegs the Nifty bottom in the current series, expiring June 30, at 15000 . He expects resistance to kick in at 16300.

"Friday's move negated the hope generated post the policy," Srivastava said. "Now it looks like the slide will continue lower." Fear gauge India Vix rose by 2.27% to 19.58. A reading above 20 signals more uncertainty. The Nifty at Friday's close was down almost 13% from its high of 18604.45 on October 19 last year.

Dairy firms may raise prices again

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

ADDING to the worries of inflation-hit consumers, dairy companies may raise prices again in the coming quarters to pass on higher milk procurement prices, according to analysts at ICICI Securities. The companies have already raised selling prices by 5-8% in the past five months.

Heatwave, higher global skimmed milk powder (SMP) prices, as well as inflation in cattle feed prices, are the key reasons for higher milk prices, the brokerage said in a note on Friday.

Wholesale prices have increased 5.8% on a pan-India basis and in south India prices are up 3.4% year-on-year (YoY) so far in June 2022, it added. "We believe the rise in wholesale prices is attributable to the end of the flush season, and increasing consumption amid intense summer."3

It also notes that the global SMP prices have steadily increased over the past 12 months. They are up 26.3% YoY and 3% MoM in June 2022. "We believe the consequent attractive export opportunity may disturb the demand- supply equation in the Indian milk industry," the note read. Further, it says that the rise in prices of key raw materials has resulted in higher cost of food for bovines.

CEO SALARY

Wipro's Thierry Delaporte highest-paid IT sector CEO, took home ₹80 cr in FY22

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

IN the rapidly growing IT sector in India, every year, paycheques of CEOs always come into focus. Of the many top IT companies, Wipro CEO and MD Thierry Delaporte is the highest paid, as he took home $10.51 million (nearly ₹79.7 crore) in FY22, compared to his peers - Infosys CEO and MD Salil Parekh - ₹71.02 crore and TCS CEO and MD Rajesh Gopinathan - ₹26 crore in the last fiscal.

According to Wipro's annual report, Delaporte's salary and allowances were $1.74 million, commission/variable pay stood at $2.54 million and $4.19 million in terms of other benefits. His long-term compensation (deferred benefit) during last fiscal was $2.03 million.

The compensation disclosed for Delaporte includes components such as a one-time cash award, as per the terms approved by the shareholders, the company said in the report.

Delaporte, 54, who joined Wipro in July 2020, took home $8.79 million (₹64 crore) for nine months in FY21.

Wipro chairman Rishad Premji's compensation in the last fiscal was $1.81 million (₹ 13.6 crore) compared to $1.61 million (about ₹11.7 crore) in FY21. No stock options were granted to Premji in FY22.

Delaporte compensation

Compensation disclosed for Delaporte includes components such as a one-time cash award, as per the terms approved by the shareholders, the company said

The Bengaluru-based IT company has over 2,40,000 employees. In the last three fiscal years, the company has acquired many companies including Rizing, a global SAP consulting firm and Convergence Acceleration Solutions, a US-based consulting firm.

"Mergers and acquisitions are an integral part of our business strategy because acquisitions help us leapfrog in strategic areas," the company said. For FY22, the IT company's consolidated revenues stood at ₹79,093 crore.

CRED raises $140 million in Series F

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FINTECH unicorn CRED said it is raising $140 million in its Series F round, and with this new round, its valuation will jump to $6.4 billion. The new funding round is said to be in a mix of primary and secondary funding.

GIC of Singapore will lead the round and other existing investors Sofina, Tiger Global and FalconEdge and Dragoneer will participate in the round.

Kunal Shah-led CRED was launched in 2018 for credit-worthy individuals to pay their credit card bills and earn points.

The fintech company has been rapidly expanding in recent times.

This fund raising also comes at a time when start-ups are struggling to find investors, as they are following a cautionary approach.

Also, NPCI Bharat BillPay, the wholly-owned subsidiary of National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI) announced the on-boarding of CRED as a key Agent Institution (AI) for providing easy bill payment solutions to CRED members.

With this collaboration, CRED members will be able to make recurring payments across several segments like electricity, and telecom, among others.

CIL floats 2 tenders to import 6 MT coal, second tender in a week

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a bid to ease the deteriorating coal situation in the country, Coal India (CIL) on Friday floated two international tenders to import 6 million tonnes (MT) of coal in the next one year. This comes days after CIL issued to import 2.42 MT of coal for July-September delivery.

"The bids are for 5,000 GAR (gross as received) quality of thermal grade coal," said a CIL statement.

The company further said these two medium-term tenders 6 MT coal have an option of increasing the bid quantity by 100% to 12 MTs. The tenure for placement of order is for a period of one year beginning July of the ongoing fiscal year till June 2023. The minimum indent quantity will be 50,000 tonnes, said the company.

The government has directed India's largest coal producer to import coal from abroad to meet the soaring demand. According to the Central Electricity Authority's daily coal report released on June 9, coal stocks at 96 out of 173 thermal power plants are at critical levels. The maximum power demand on June 9, 2022, touched a new record of 210.793 GW, with the peak shortage registering at 578 MW.

This is for the first time, the miner has floated two back-to-back tender, on behalf of state power generating companies (gencos) and independent power plants (IPPs), to import coal. "For the 6 MT coal sought through competitive bids 9 destination ports have been identified for the discharge of coal, 3 MT each at the eastern and western coasts of the country," CIL said. The estimated value of the work is pegged at ₹3,850 crore for each tranche of 3 MT. Meanwhile, the coal ministry came up with its action plan for this fiscal, in which it mentioned that the Coking Coal Mission is set to enhance its production from 45 MT in 2020-21 to 140 MT by 2029-30.

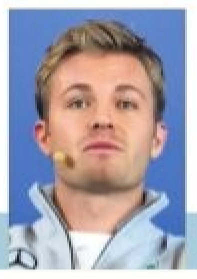
Rosberg barred from F1 paddock over vaccine status



Former world champion Nico Rosberg has not been allowed to enter the Formula One paddock this season because he isn't vaccinated against Covid-19. Rosberg has been working as a commentator and pundit on TV after he won the F1 title in 2016 with Mercedes and retired from racing shortly thereafter.

New beginning for Dhanalakshmi

TN quarter-miler runs her first 400m ever on the opening day of the inter-state meet

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

LAST week, S Dhanalakshmi ran 200m in 23.26 seconds at the 7th International Sprint and Relay Cup in Turkey. She did that with a headwind of 4.3 (a headwind makes it more challenging). Coach, Galina Bukharina, name-checked that very specific run two days before the beginning of the 61st national inter-state athletics championships.

On first glance, all of this seems utterly unremarkable. For the TN athlete specialises in the longer of the two sprints. According to the World Athletics website, the athlete, who turned 24 last Sunday, has run a bunch of 200m events with the best being 23.14 seconds in Patiala in 2021.

But the athlete, over the best part of the last year, either by chance or by design, is gradually being converted to a 400m runner. She ran the distance at the Athletics Federation of India's (AFI) trials in 2021 which ultimately saw her make the Olympics squad (she finished third in the 400m trials) as a reserve member in the mixed 4x400m relay squad. It was, to put it mildly, a surprise even for her because she thought she would be on the bus but in the 4x100m relay contingent.

On Friday, in brutal humidity and zero wind, there was another first for the TN girl. She ran her first recorded 400m ever (outside of trials) on the opening day of the inter-state competitions. For the purposes of record-keeping, her 54.04 seconds will be marked as a personal best at least as far as the World Athletics website is confirmed. But it wasn't even enough to be one of the three fastest athletes in the semifinal she ran. Even if her timing wasn't all that impressive, the Athletics Federation of India (AFI) will not mind this experiment because of what's at stake.

With several members of the mixed relay squad suffering from injury or a loss of form, there could be a few spots up for grabs in the next cycle. Considering Dhanalakshmi comes with the highest form of recommendation — Bukharina — this could be the first of many one-lap races Dhanalakshmi may run in the next few months. With no breeze on Friday and undue delays, timings of most athletes were down. On Saturday, when the Trichy athlete runs in the final alongside Priya Mohan and Rupal Chaudhary, two of the rising quarter-milers in the country, she will be hoping for better conditions.

Baranica jumps to glory

Tamil Nadu's Baranica Elangovan won the women's pole vault, pipping Rosy Paulraj and Pavithra Venkatesh in a 1-2-3 for TN. The event that went over 90 minutes saw Baranica jump 4.05m, a new inter-state record eclipsing the 4.00m set by Kjvati Vakharia in 2013.

Results (only finals)

Men: 10000m: Abhishek Pal (UP) 29:55.51, Gulveer Singh (UP) 29:55.71, Dharmender (Raj) 29:55.84.

Women: 10000m: Sanjivani Jadhav (Mah) 33:16.43, Prajakta Godbole (Mah) 33:59.34, Kavita Yadav (UP) 35:00.33.

Pole vault: Baranica Elangovan (TN) 4.05m, Rosy Paulraj (TN) 4.00m, Pavithra Venkatesh (TN) 3.90m.

Global giants out but BCCI still can earn big

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

EVEN though Amazon has pulled out of the race for IPL media rights, market analysts are predicting a heavy windfall for the Board of Control for Cricket in India. According to estimates, the BCCI could get richer anywhere between ₹40,000 crore to ₹50,000 crore as heavyweights Disney Star, Viacom18, Sony, and Zee are set to battle it out for the IPL media rights for the period 2023-2027.

From the time Amazon picked up the bid document, there have been huge expectations about how India's sports broadcasting landscape is going to change. Two days ahead of the e-auction, sources familiar with the development revealed that Amazon Inc has decided not to enter the fray. Google, which was expected to make an offer for the digital rights through YouTube, is yet to submit the bid and it is not clear whether they will take part in the e-auction scheduled to begin on Sunday and could possibly go on till the next day in Mumbai.

With two of the global giants out, the battle will be fought by familiar rivals. Walt Disney, which holds the overall media rights, is expected to face tough competition from Viacom18 JV, which includes Uday Shankar. In 2017, Shankar was with Star India and went aggressively at the media rights auction as the latter acquired the rights for around Rs 16,000 crore. However, with no consolidated bid around and e-auction in play, the open competition could spice up the auction.

There are four categories up for grabs with Package A for television, Package B for digital (sub-continent), Package C for non-exclusive rights (18-22 matches that fall on the weekend and the play-off and final) and Package D overseas.

Although it is an e-auction and bidders would be able to see what the other party has offered, they won't be able to know the name of the bidder. This is done to ensure one party doesn't raise the bid unfairly. While the presence of OTT platforms and the interest shown by the likes of FanCode, Dream11, FunAsia, Times Internet and Sky Sports, the focus is bound to be firmly on Package B. Despite it, Package A still remains the primary one. Even though Hotstar witnessed heavy traffic for the IPL, analysts point out that in Tier II and Tier III cities, where the majority of the population comes from, television still remains the primary medium. "When both options (satellite and OTT) are there, people would still go for the television because of much better reception as you are not relying on internet unless there is bad weather and you are watching it on a 30-inch screen. At least for the next five years, the linear broadcast would have decent numbers," said Santosh N, Managing Partner, D and P Advisory, who has been studying brand IPL for years.

Anand loses to Mamedyarov, Carlsen on top

STAVANGER (NORWAY): Viswanathan Anand's campaign at the Norway Chess tournament suffered a setback after losing to Azerbaijan's Shakhriyar Mamedyarov in the ninth round while Magnus Carlsen shot into sole lead with a win over Frenchman Maxime Vachier-Lagrave. Anand showed impressive form with a victory over Carlsen to lead the standings after the fifth round but was outgunned by Mamedyarov in 22 moves in the Classical match.

KIYG: Haryana girls clinch hockey gold

PANCHKULA: Haryana girls beat Odhisha 4-1 in the hockey final while two of their boys — judoka Anil (55 kg) and swimmer Harsh Saroha (100m butterfly) — clinched gold to keep the hosts ahead in the Khelo India Youth Games here on Friday. Earlier, Jharkhand girls beat UP 4-1 to take home the bronze medal.

Lakshya, Sindhu go down in quarterfinals

JAKARTA: India shuttlers Lakshya Sen and PV Sindhu lost their respective quarterfinal ties to bow out of the Indonesia Masters here. Lakshya lost 21-16, 12-21, 21-14 against Chinese Taipei's Chou Tien Chen. Sindhu suffered a 12-21, 10-21 loss against Thailand's Ratchanok Intanon.

Tiwary hits century, Bengal in semifinals

BENGALURU: Seamlessly juggling politics and cricket, Manoj Tiwary on Friday achieved what no one else did in 88 years of Ranji Trophy: score a hundred while being a sitting minister in a state government. Without an iota of doubt, Tiwary's 136 was the highlight of an inconsequential fifth day's play as Bengal advanced to the semi-finals of the Ranji Trophy on the basis of their massive first-innings lead. In between signing files related to his constituency, Tiwary struck 19 fours and two sixes.

Brief scores: Bengal 773/7 dec & 318/7 (Manoj Tiwary 136 n.o, Shahbaz Ahmed 46; Shahbaz Nadeem 5/59) drew with Jharkhand 298.

Sri Lanka athletics chief talks about sport, AFI help

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

AS the 100m and 400m semifinals were on, one particular man in a blue shirt on the dais seemed quite excited. He wanted to follow the races closely. The reason is more than just academic. He is the president of Athletics Association of Sri Lanka and is hoping that the two athletes meet the qualifying standards for the World Championships. It's not been easy in Sri Lanka due to the political unrest and funding has not been too adequate.

Athletics Association of Sri Lanka president Palitha Fernando talked about the much fabled days of Damayanti Darsha and Susanthika Jayasinghe and how they sparked a revolution in sprints in the country. "We are an island nation and our diet consists of fish and that is good for sprinters. Then we have this generation of athletes. When you start doing well in a particular sport you have followers. We had Damayanthi, we had Susanthika and they were all doing well in sprints. That's the reason why more athletes followed them. And we have been doing well in 100m, 200m and 400m."

Fernando said that they have started a new programme and was targetting this year's Asiad. "We have a very good team. If you take last Asian Games timing we would have won five to six medals without any problem. In 4x400m relay in both men's and women's and mixed and we can reach podium in Asian Games. We have a good long jump athlete in women's. We have a sprinter (Yupun Abeykoon) who is doing 20.35 in 200m right now and 10.03s in 100m. He has a chance of winning a medal. We have a good high jumper who is training in the US. We have a good triple jump athlete and other sprinters as well."

However, there are times when they struggle also. And in times of need, there in India by the Sri Lanka association's side."Whenever we need help, I have to say it's only one country that helps us out. Funding is an issue. Earlier, the IAAF used to fund but that also has stopped."

Mary's CWG hopes over

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

BOXING ace MC Mary Kom has entered the twilight years of her glittering career and was hopeful of a strong show during the upcoming Commonwealth Games in Birmingham, due to commence in July. Having not been in action since the Tokyo Olympics last year, the 2018 edition gold winner had been patiently building up for the event. However, in a cruel twist of fate, the 39-year-old's dreams fell apart on Friday after she was forced to withdraw midway during her bout in Delhi, which was part of selection process to make the quadrennial event.

Up against Nitu in the 48kg bout, the six-time world champion sustained a knee injury just a minute into the opening round. After medical assistance, the returned. However, that didn't last long as the pain persisted and she was eventually forced to concede the match. Nitu was declared the winner by RSCI verdict.

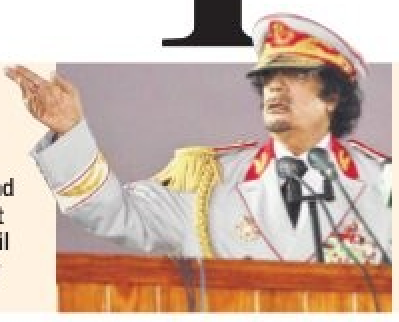
DAY'S DIARY

Libyan celebration

On this day in 1970, Libya celebrated their first American Evacuation Day that marks the removal of the US from the country

RISING INTERESTS

After Italy relinquished its control of Libya to the US and Britain, the former's interest grew with the discovery of oil in the North African country



FREE FROM FOREIGN FORCE

Leader Muammar Gaddafi called for "the liquidation of foreign bases on Libyan soil", once he came to power in 1969. The US did so after long negotiations

CLOSING BASES

When the US base was closed, a band played the Star Spangled Banner as the US flag lowered and the Libyan national anthem at the raising of Libya's standard

STREET FUN

Reclaiming the streets of Malleswaram, this two-day event will see some fun activities for residents

CHIRRAG GUHA

What was nice a quiet and quaint neighbourhood in Malleswaram is now a sore sight with horns blaring through the streets and crowded roads with cars and buses. Affected by urbanisation, this part of town too misses the fun and games it had. In an attempt to relive those days is the two-day event called 'Majja Maadona Malleswaram', which will see fun activities such as zumba, wall paintings, street games, garage sales, and more taking place.

Malleswaram Social, a community known for promoting such events, is hosting the event as part of Walkable Malleswaram movement. With this, the team aims to make Malleshwaram a walkable 15-minute area once again by claiming service lanes for pedestrians.

Community member Aparna Desraj Urs explains what made her support the cause. "Reactivating dead spaces like the conservancy lanes into community commons open to all is what appealed to me. Bringing back a bit of the flavour, nostalgia, connectedness, and the sensibility of Malleswaram, as seniors have often reminisced about, is the aim of this event."

Along with painting murals for public visibility as support for the sustainable movement, the event will also have fun activities for one to partake in as a way to highlight the importance of these lanes.

Suchitra Deep, architect and founder of Malleswaram Social, says, "This event is a fun way to introduce the conservancy lanes to the residents of Malleswaram, many of whom are unaware of their existence. We hope to showcase how versatile they are and the many ways they can be repurposed like walking paths, meeting spots for seniors, play arenas for children etc. We are in dire need of public spaces such as these in all our neighbourhoods." From music performances, painting, gardening to zumba, the event provides a plethora of family-friendly activities for the residents. The event will begin at 7 am and go on too afternoon.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO THE NURSING COMMUNITY, FORMER MLA IVAN NIGLI TURNS PRODUCER OF UPCOMING KANNADA FILM SEPTEMBER 13

AN ODE TO NURSES

ISHRATH MUBEEN

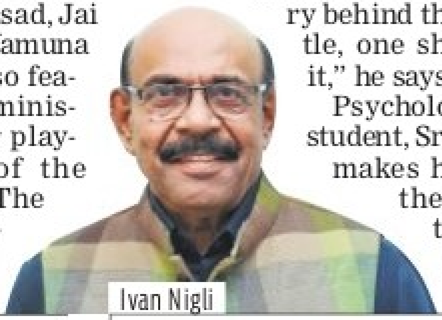
A scene from the film

IVAN Nigli, former MLA of Karnataka, was 16 years old when he collapsed on his way back home due to chest congestion. A nurse helped him reach the nearest hospital where he was kept under observation for possible tuberculosis infection. Since then, Nigli has wanted to do something to acknowledge the nursing community for their selfless service to the society but did not have enough resources.

Fast forward to 2022 and Nigli turns producer to share his gratitude. Titled September 13, an upcoming Kannada movie directed by renowned filmmaker Dr Rajah Balakrishnan, highlights the journey of the nursing community from college life to risking their lives during the pandemic.

While the world has lost many dedicated nurses due to the pandemic, their work goes unnoticed, feels Nigli. "I have a tremendous amount of respect for the nursing community which has played a vital role in overcoming the deadly virus. Now that I have the means to talk about their challenges, this movie is dedicated to the unconditional service by the community," says Nigli, who instituted the Florence Nightingale Awards to recognise excellence in Nursing Services in Karnataka.

The movie, set in a village in Karnataka, showcases the story of Nitya, who graduated from nursing college during the pandemic. The cast also includes veteran actors like Vinaya Prasad, Jai Jagadish, and Yamuna Srinidhi. It also features former minister UT Khader playing the role of the village MLA. "The film covers various themes like loss, love, sibling relationship, friendship, and the importance of brotherhood in society," says Nigli, adding that the pandemic has taught one to not take people for granted. "To know the story behind the movie's title, one should watch it," he says.



Ivan Nigli

Psychology honours student, Sreyaridhiban makes her debut in the film industry with her role as the female protagonist. The making of September 13 was an emotional journey, she says. "When I was playing the role of Nitya, I could feel the pain and emotions of those who lost their loved ones during the pandemic. It is a struggle to helplessly watch your dear one breathe their last right in front of you," she says.

Releasing in the last week of June (date yet to be announced), September 13 will be screened across theatres in India.

WITH no mainstream jobs, working on other skills has proven to help the LGBTQ+ community make a living. This pride month, two organisations are helping empower these members by equipping them with beautician courses.

Indian Association of Secretaries and Administrative Professionals (IASAP) is hosting carnival 'Synthesize 2022' on June 11 at Tunbridge High School, Infantry Road, in collaboration with NGO The Indian Roots Foundation (IRF). Earlier, IASAP members had organised a one-day training programme for transgenders. Marjorie Mary Gama, member of IASAP and secretary to the Integrated Drug Discovery (IDD) and Research Informatics Team, says, "Earlier, we distributed five sewing machines, and now they will exhibit their products."

Meryl Dcouto

The fundraising event will also have food stalls and activities like games and tambola. All funds will be utilised to help them pursue their dreams. "A lot of them have gone to schools and colleges, but now they need a direction. With these funds, they will be enrolled in beautician courses which will help them earn their living," says Meryl Dcouto, president of IASAP and executive assistant to Jonathan Hunt, CEO of Syngene.

- Mix well till smooth.
- Move the mixture to a glass bowl to set for 1-2 hours.
- Garnish with pistachios.
- Serve chilled.

FIT BIT

DETOXIFICATION MUDRA

(SACRED HAND GESTURE)

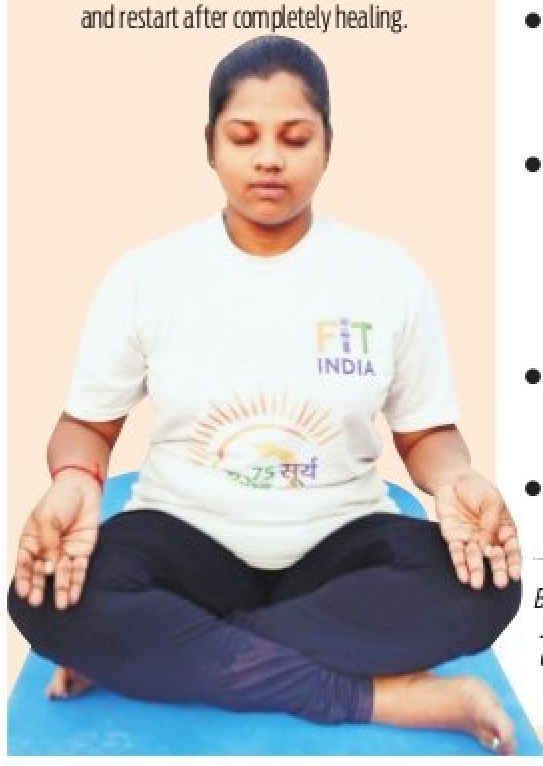
This Mudra helps to cleanse the body's energy channels, and clear the mind of negative energy and habits. It is important to take part in a detoxification treatment at least once a day. Mudras are said to engage areas of the brain and/or soul influencing them, sometimes physically, by their use – not unlike an affirmation, or reflexology. Yoga poses for the solar plexus are also great detoxifiers. This mudra is said to remove toxins from the body – both physically and mentally.

STEPS

- Find a quiet place, free from distraction.
- You can lie down, sit or stand in a stable and grounded position.
- Place the tips of your thumbs on the inside of the lower joint of your ring fingers.
- Now, focus on taking deep, steady, calming breaths.
- This Mudra detoxifies you within minutes.

LIMITATIONS

- Those who already have the Kapha dominant body should take guidance from a yoga teacher before attempting this practice.
- When ill with cough and cold, avoid this and restart after completely healing.



BENEFITS

- Assists in clearing space and directing positive energy.
- Effective for any form of detoxification or purification process which can be practised any time of the day, while watching TV, reading a book or simply lying on the bed.
- Encourages the body to rid itself of impurities and the mind to let go of bad energy.
- Can assist you in visualising thoughts, feelings, or events that you wish to eliminate, and harmful behaviour that is keeping you stuck.
- It's crucial to get enough rest and drink plenty of water to remove everything impure from your body.
- It can be used to treat anuria (absence or stoppage of urine), constipation, bloating, piles, vomiting, hiccups, and restlessness.
- Aids in the reduction of menstruation pain and blood pressure.
- Also aids in the regulation of liver function.

Hello, my tribe!

THEY say that the winds of change are going to envelop the world in an air of deceptive quietness which will blow into a storm of severe recession. Apparently after a high rate of attrition amongst the millenniums and GenXers, there is now a hiring freeze in most conglomerates after an initial frenzy of hiring new talent. Industry soothsayers are predicting a huge downward trend in our country next year and the effects of things to come are already being witnessed abroad. I don't know whether I should feel anxious for my children or for us. Honestly, there seems like there is no respite with Cardi-V ready to start a rock-concert again! Infections are on the rise and every time a large contingent comes back from either Dubai or from Karan Johar's party, the virus goes viral again!

It is rather shocking to see how blasé one and all are about wearing a simple 'false-face'! I thought that namma ooru should have figured out the benefits of 'masking-up' by now. It's a great precaution against both; gossiping and Cardi-V! When one can masque up with a ton of make-up, then why not to prevent a viral-load of infection through your facial orifices? I remember taking a lift (with trepidation) to the fourth floor of my doctor's office and encountering an educated young lady without a mask in the tiny confines of the lift. When quizzed, she nonchalantly answered that since I was wearing a mask so basically one was enough! Quite frankly, I was too nonplussed to answer!

My sister's fracture is healing far too slowly and her family has collapsed like nine pins around her as her son and daughter-in-law re-battle the virus…again! I feel like looking heavenward and yelling for some respite. My only sanity comes from my friends and thankfully a squadron of them descended on me recently. Jyothika and Puneet Dhawan are like a breath of fresh air. Puneet is upbeat and vibrant while Jo is positive and honest. They were ooru bound to bid adieu to the GM of Novotel and Ibis hotels and the farewell party at Novotel Tech-Park was a blast like old times. I remember opening the hotel with a series of (strictly by invitation only) theatre and stand-up comedy shows. Puneet is now a senior VP India and S.E.Asia Accor group of hotels and most of the hospitality fraternity was there. Much bonhomie, back-slapping while quaffing the best of ambrosia and partaking on some excellent dinner made the evening even more charming. Viva amigues… life is fabulous when the 'boss-man' is your amigue!

Since all my shenanigans with my friends were in the vicinity of the 'Republic of Whitefield' area, let me tell you the traffic to get there is horrendous!

We went to lunch at Sashay Taproom and Kitchen, a lovely quasi-retro, newbie hot-spot partly owned by my banker son-in-law's friend. His name, 'Atalanta' piqued my interest and when we met we got along like the proverbial 'house on fire'! A group of friends and I, learned to 'hang' and we were the better for it because of the laughs and conversations fueled by the cocktails and food.

I firmly believe in creating happiness rather than pursuing it.

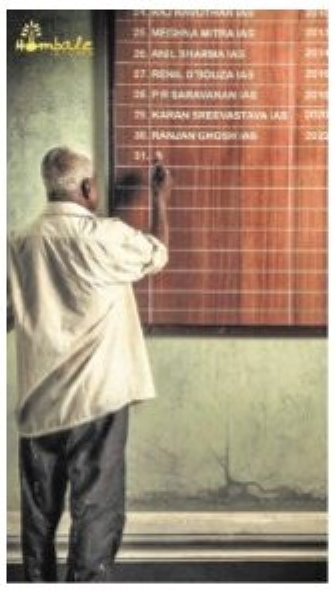
PRITHVIRAJ ANNOUNCES FOURTH DIRECTORIAL TITLED TYSON

HOMBALE FILMS TO PRODUCE

CE FEATURES



PRITHVIRAJ Sukumaran will be teaming up with screenwriter Murali Gopy once again after completing the Lucifer sequel, Empuraan. The project, titled Tyson, will also star Prithviraj. Notably, Hombale Films, the production house behind the KGF films, is bankrolling this one, and it will be released in Malayalam, Kannada, Tamil, Telugu, and Hindi. Prithviraj is taking on the role of a collector in the film.

Sharing the teaser poster on his social media handles, Prithviraj wrote, "Presenting my 4th directorial, next after Empuraan - L2. Once again collaborating with my friend, brother, and co-creator Murali Gopy, this time, we are going big, with a giant of Indian cinema backing our vision! Thank you #HombaleFilms and Vijay Kiragandur for the trust and the conviction! Starring and directed by yours truly."

A CELEBRATION OF UNCONDITIONAL LOVE

777 CHARLIE

Cast: Rakshit Shetty, Charlie, Sangeeth Sringeri, Raj B Shetty

Director: Kiranraj

A SHARADHAA

IN The Great Dictator, Charlie Chaplin says, "In this world, there is room for everyone. And the good Earth is rich and can provide for everyone. The way of life can be free and beautiful, but… we have lost the way." These words echo true even after eight decades, and it is these words that fuel the journey of Dharma and Charlie, the leads of Kiranraj's heartwarming adventure drama, 777 Charlie.

While Hollywood routinely celebrates the human-animal bond, there's still room in our cinema for such exploration. Dogs are still predominantly used in revenge dramas, in which they look to defend their masters, or in investigative thrillers, in which they are sniffing out clues. However, it is the strong emotional core of 777 Charlie makes Kiranraj's debut directorial stand tall.

The film is about Dharma (Rakshit Shetty), a loner with a past, who is forlorn, aggressive, and takes to the bottle like a fish to water. He is derisively mocked as 'Hitler' by his neighbours and at his workplace. When a stray dog (Charlie) enters Dharma's life, things take an interesting, hilarious, and many a time, emotional turn. However, things start off patchy between Dharma and Charlie. He seeks help from veterinarian Ashwin Kumar (Raj B Shetty) to get leads for an adoption to Devika (Sangeetha Sringeri), an officer at an animal welfare centre, who then gives Charlie his name… Characters step in at opportune times to facilitate the slowly developing bond between Dharma and Charlie.

From looking for ways to let go of Charlie, to making him an integral part of his life, Dharma's life takes a turn that enriches his life. However, circumstances make his happiness short-lived, and from here on, 777 Charlie becomes an adventure drama that sees Dharma and Charlie go on expeditions across the country, including to snow-capped mountains in the Himalayas. The film is a journey that reaffirms the belief in unconditional love, and how a dog can change the lives of many.

RATING 3.5/5

At a time when action films are ruling the roost, Kiranraj convincingly reminds us to open our hearts to heartwarming, simple stories. While the writing needed a bit more fleshing out, it's a film through which the director bares his heart out—and for that reason, the three-hour-long film works for the most part.

It helps that Dharma isn't a unidimensional character, with Rakshit striking a superb balance in portraying the role and its various shades. Dharma plays off Charlie, and their equation is the soul of this amusing, evocative film that has you breaking down several times. Though this film is essentially about Dharma and Charlie, the presence of other characters too helps develop Dharma. Be it the hilarious cameo of Raj B Shetty or the precocious young child, Ardika (Sharvari), or the general assured presence of Sangeetha Sringeri's Devika, each character gets a vital role in 777 Charlie. Tamil actor Bobby Simha's cameo as a loner with a dog too becomes instrumental in teaching Dharma a valuable lesson.

Craft excellence is a big plus for this film, and the team has clearly overcome several logistical challenges. The music of Nobin Paul elevates this road-trip film, with cinematographer Aravind Kashyap's work, especially in the Himalayan portions of 777 Charlie, turning this film into one for the ages.

Animals transforming people's lives isn't exactly the most novel narrative idea, but in dark times in a cynical world, it is rewarding to see a film like 777 Charlie that shows that the unconditional love and loyalty from animals show us how within all humans, there is the propensity to be… well… loving. 777 Charlie is an ode to dog lovers, and Kiranraj, Rakshit and others have crafted this film in a way that even if you are not one, you might just revisit your stance about dogs.

HRITHIK, SAIF WRAP UP VIKRAM VEDHA

CE FEATURES

THE Hindi remake of Vikram Vedha has wrapped production.

Directed by Pushkar and Gayatri (who also helmed the popular Tamil original), the film stars Saif Ali Khan as Vikram and Hrithik Roshan as Vedha. They're joined in the cast by Radhika Apte, Yogita Bihani and Rohit Saraf.

Vikram Vedha commenced filming in October last year. After schedules in Abu Dhabi, Lucknow and Mumbai, the film's principal photography has been wrapped.

On filming with Hrithik and Saif, directors Pushkar & Gayatri jointly said, "It's been an exhilarating experience shooting with the leading superstars of our country Hrithik & Saif. With our super talented and amazing crew, we've been able to achieve what we had envisioned at a script level. We can't wait to show our film to the audiences."

Returning to the big screen after three years, Hrithik Roshan said, "Becoming Vedha was unlike anything I've ever done before. I had to break the mould of being the 'hero' and step into a completely unexplored territory as an actor. The journey felt like I was graduating. My relentless directors Pushkar & Gayatri kept me on a treadmill, silently motivating me to push boundaries. Working alongside Saif Ali Khan, Radhika Apte, Rohit Saraf and Yogita Bihani further gave me an impetus as a performer." Further adding, "Looking back… I became the Vedha that I did, because of the powerful presence of Saif Ali Khan as Vikram. He is phenomenal in every way possible."

Saif Ali Khan shared, "Pushkar & Gayatri are quite the dynamic duo with great creative energy and it's been very rewarding working with them. A complete icing on the cake and elevating experience for me was working with Hrithik and doing some intense action scenes."

Vikram Vedha follows a tough police officer on the hunt of a menacing gangster. Inspired by the Indian folktale Baital Pachisi, the 2017 original film had starred R Madhavan and Vijay Sethupathi.

Ranjeeth and Spandana

DIL KUSH

TO MARK THE DIRECTORIAL DEBUT OF PRAMOD JAYA

CE FEATURES

Pramod Jaya, an erstwhile assistant of director Suni, is set to make his directorial debut with Dil Kush. Having worked in films like Operation Alamelamma, Chamak and Bazaar, Pramod has based Dil Kush on his own experiences.

Ranjeeth, who brings in his experience of working in theatre, teleserials, and short films, will make his debut as the lead in Dil Kush. Similarly, Spandana Somannana, known for her work in teleserials, will also make her big screen debut with this film.

Dil Kush will also feature Dharmanna Kadur, Raaghu Ramanakoppa, Aruna Balraj, and Ranghayana Raghu in pivotal roles. With music by Prasad K Shetty, and cinematography by Nivas Narayan, Dil Kush is backed by Jayalakshmi Praveen and Prabhas Shekar under the Jayaprabhaa Colour Frames banner.

The project will go on floors on June 15.

THIS DINOSAUR FILM LACKS BITE

JURASSIC WORLD DOMINION

Cast: Chris Pratt, Bryce Dallas Howard, Laura Dern, Jeff Goldblum, Sam Neill

Director: Colin Trevorrow

GOPINATH RAJENDRAN

HISTORY, as a subject, never really gets its due. It's not just a window to the past, but also a record of what mistakes we once committed. In the Jurassic Park films, the characters realise this as they are intermittently reminded why humans never existed at the time period when dinosaurs once freely roamed the planet. Similarly, the first trilogy and the reception that dipped as the films progressed should have been a lesson for the makers of the second trilogy. History is unfortunately repeating itself as the latest outing, Jurassic World Dominion is not just the weakest link in the second trilogy, but also in the entire Jurassic Park franchise.

Four years after the Isla Nublar incident, dinosaurs are living alongside humans and this, obviously, leads to new disasters. A newsflash says that there have been 37 deaths because of this human-animal conflict. Speaking of humans, some of them want to preserve the majestic creatures while others, as always, try to make a quick buck. While some resort to illegal breeding and trafficking, corporates-- organisations working tirelessly to destroy humanity, according to the filmmakers--are coming up with more deviant schemes. One of them, which sells seeds, creates a locust that's coupled with the dino DNA which feeds on crops that are not made from their company seeds. They prioritise profit over famine and the death of millions.

RATING 2/5

The film also brings back its three famous doctors, Alan Grant, Ellie Sattler and Ian Malcolm (played by Sam Neill, Laura Dern and Jeff Goldblum) to solve the locust infestation. To complicate the story further, we also have Maisie Lockwood, a clone of Benjamin Lockwood's daughter who is kept away from the world by Owen (Chris Pratt) and Claire (Bryce Dallas Howard).

The idea of two species from different timelines trying to coexist in a world that's already on the brink of destruction, thanks to several aspects like global warming and climate change, is an intriguing one, and a far better reason for a Jurassic Park film sequel than what its predecessors ever had. We get a cowboy-style introduction for Owen when he lassos a Parasaurolophus and we also get to see Maisie (Isabella Sermon) help a bunch of men safely move an Apatosaurus from their workplace. But all of these 'cute' scenes don't last long as a firm called BioSyn, headed by Lewis Dodgson (Campbell Scott), turns things up a notch and a series of incidents lead Owen and his family to team up with the doctors to save themselves and expose the true motives of the corporate company.

The biggest selling point of this film is the fact that Dern, Goldblum and Neill are coming together once again after the first film which came out in 1993. Despite the fact that the scenes involving the three of them make up for some of the best non-dino sequences in the film, the trio are rarely together. Goldblum, who plays the eccentric chaotician, Ian, appears in just one scene in the first half and returns only for the climax. Doctors Alan and Ellie feature in far more engaging; one of them is a divorcee while the other one has apparently stayed single over the years. You know what that means. Claire, Owen and Maisie have their own little adventure or misadventure to be precise, with Owen's pet raptor Blue finding her way to their cabin in the woods and bringing in a new baby with her.

Dominion relies more on nostalgia and callbacks for its humour and emotion. It's fun to see Ian donning his signature leather jacket and when Alan gets asked if he knows about the voltage at the park's electric fences, you recognise that it's a callback to the first film. The film is a visual spectacle, sure, and the makers, keeping in the tradition of the previous films, have used animatronic dinosaurs. We also finally get to see feathered dinosaurs, a far more realistic representation of the animals closely related to birds. Alan even pokes fun at how they "always come from the sides" when they attack humans. We get nods to several other film franchises. A racy bike sequence set in Malta has a raptor chasing our heroes, and in one Bourne Ultimatum-esque scene, we see the dino jump from one balcony to another. Dodgson is sure to remind you of Bond villains and there's even a shot where a raptor breaks a chunk of a door and sticks his face through the hole in a 'here's Johnny!' style. The film also reminds you of some Indiana Jones and Star Wars films, but all of this is simply fan service and do nothing to aid the events of this film.

The original Jurassic Park films offered a good mix of humour, action and tasteful jump-scares. While the first two films of the second trilogy managed to retain a certain percentage of that fun, this final film of the whole franchise just doesn't get that mix right. Even the much-anticipated T. Rex, that has become the mascot for the franchise, comes up at the end for a boring fight with a bigger Gigantosaurus and the result of that brawl is an easy guess. On the whole, this film is not the fitting finale this three-decade-old franchise deserved. What should have been a nostalgic send-off to the mammoth creatures ends up being a product that fails to tick off a checklist of everything fans loved from the franchise. Jurassic World Dominion is the worst thing to happen to dinosaurs since the asteroid that wiped them out.
